

Mayor C. J. Heiselman Has Signed Proposed New Charter for City

Special Election Will Be Held on July 23, to Give Voters Opportunity To Accept or Reject Proposed Charter.

MAYOR EXPLAINS

In Signing The Proposed Charter Mayor Explains His Reasons for Doing So.

Mayor C. J. Heiselman has signed the proposed new charter for the city of Kingston and an opportunity will be given the voters of the city to accept or reject the proposed charter at a special election to be held on July 23. In signing the charter Mayor Heiselman made the following statement:

"I have carefully considered the matter made at the public hearing held on May 16, in reference to Local Law No. 2 of 1935, known as Local Law No. 16 of the City of Kingston, revising the charter of the city.

The charge was made that the new charter is an effort to hand the political control of the city over to the political parties. This charge may be best answered by pointing out the character of the personnel of the Charter Commission and by re-stating what is already common knowledge, that the Charter Commission was composed of business and professional men from both major political parties.

They undertook the work in a spirit indicating that they had only one object in view, and that was to give our citizens an opportunity to carefully consider and act upon a charter which is in line with the best thought regarding present day government of cities of our class. It was not the intention, as alleged, to fail to appreciate those who have served on the several boards under our present system. There is a provision of state law which prohibits any member of a city board from selling, directly or indirectly, materials or supplies to the city. This limits the field from which board members may be chosen, and it is sometimes difficult to obtain business men to serve on city boards in view of these restrictions.

The charge was also made, by inference, that too much power was placed in the hands of the mayor. The power of the mayor under the present charter is to execute the laws and govern expenditures of public funds in making up the budget and the determination of other policies is exercised by the new charter. This power is transferred to the Board of Estimate, composed of the mayor, the executive head, the commissioner of finance, the financial head, and the president of the Common Council, the legislative head of the government. However, the new charter does definitely increase the responsibilities of the mayor and places squarely on his shoulders the responsibility for the efficient conduct of the various city departments in such a manner as the citizens will know where the responsibility lies.

The state law gives to all cities very broad powers in regulating its local affairs. Therefore, nothing in the new charter is or can be contrary to the powers already granted and heretofore enjoyed in regard to licensing and regulating business within the city. Therefore, more cannot be regulated than is now under the old charter.

Regarding the decrease in the number of aldermen: At the present time, each resident has one alderman to represent him in the legislature of the city. Under the new charter, each citizen will have four aldermen to represent him. Under the present system, he can appeal to only one alderman. Under the new system, he can appeal to four aldermen, because they are elected not from wards but at large in the city. This gives each citizen 100 per cent representation in the Common Council. With this system in operation, each councilman will represent the city as a whole, and not only one-third of the city as at present.

All questions raised at the public hearing were carefully considered by the Charter Commission in recommending the new charter. In recommending whether or not the Superintendent of Public Works and Superintendent of the Water Department should be licensed graduate civil engineers, it was decided that it might at some future time be difficult to obtain a local resident possessing these qualifications. It was decided that to import a non-resident for such a position would not meet with public approval. It was also agreed that a man might be qualified by engineering experience but might not be able to handle and direct the workers in his department to the best interests of the city. It was also decided that, with the responsibility put squarely up to the mayor, he would see to it, in order to protect himself from public criticism, that the best qualified men were appointed. The charter may be amended, however, at any time, by local law adopted by the Common Council, to include this recommendation or to make other changes.

The proposed charter includes the best features of the city manager form of government, which is widely recommended as the most modern and effective system of local government. There can be no doubt that our present charter, adopted in 1895, needs revision to meet changed conditions. Even those who disagree with some Tragedy Occurs During Fleet Maneuvers as 6P7 Flies Above Disabled Sister Craft, Crew of Which is Safe—Scene of Crash Searched for More Than 24 Hours—Wreckage Denotes Instantaneous Death of Airmen.

12 Deaths Are Caused In Odd Plane Crashes

By The Associated Press

Two unusual airplane crashes, one in mid-Pacific and the other in China, brought death to 12 airmen last Tuesday. Neither accident was revealed until today.

Six United States navy men were killed when their seaplane dived into the ocean while it was serving as a rescue director above a disabled sister-plane during fleet maneuvers. The occupants of the sister-plane and the plane itself were picked up safely. On the previous day, the six occupants of another disabled seaplane were rescued before their craft sank.

The pilot of a military airplane was killed at Canton, when he rammed his ship into a building. The building wall collapsed, killing five soldiers inside and injuring 44 others.

"Breeder of Strife"—Attacking the Wagner labor relations bill, President Harper Shiley of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States said today it would be beyond the lawful powers of the government and breed "industrial strife." "It would sow seeds of civil, industrial conflict," he said, in a statement. "Neither management nor workers could have any assurance of stability in their mutual relations."

Grand Jury Date Advanced.—The date for the report of the grand jury was advanced one day due to additional work to be done. District Attorney Glenn B. Murray expects that the report will be handed up to the court on Tuesday next.

Local ERB in District Which Heads the List in Accident Prevention

District No. 6 of Which Kingston is a Part Heads List in Prevention of Accidents on Work Relief Projects.

COMMENDS WORKERS

Harford S. Shultz, Executive Secretary, Commends Foremen and First Aid Men Here.

District No. 6 of the State TERA of which Kingston is a part stands highest on the list in the prevention of accidents on work relief projects, and Harford S. Shultz, executive secretary of the local emergency relief bureau, has written a letter to the foremen and first aid men here commending them on the excellent record they have made. Secretary Shultz's letter follows:

District No. 6, of which Kingston is a part, now stands at the head of the list in accident prevention in New York state. The district reached that place by establishing one of the lowest records yet reached in New York state since CWA, with its safety organization, started. This coveted place was reached by consistent plugging away at safety education of workers, exercising care and taking every precaution known to prevent accidents. It was made by taking our district safety motto seriously. (No Lost Time Accidents.) District No. 6 covers a big territory, but because every community in the district did its bit and kept its house in order it brought the whole to the top of the list. If one community had failed to do its very best, the whole district would have been affected. We have reached top place because every one concerned, from the top down to the worker, has been alert and careful.

Since compliments seem to be in order, the writer takes this opportunity to thank you for your sincere cooperation in the preventing of accidents. The writer also desires you to pass the good word along to your men, together with your word of thanks, because these men have helped to establish our district where it is on this date. It is also these men we are depending upon to hold our district in first place.

Of course, we desire to hold first place in the state, and the same sincere work in accident prevention that put the district there will hold it there. We feel proud of this record, but our pride will enlarge still further when we stop to think that we have accomplished more than establishing ourselves in first place. We have prevented deaths—suffering—loss of eyesight—loss of limbs—are keeping men fit for private industry—are keeping husbands and fathers safe and sound for the folks at home.

It has been proven again and again that safe working reduces the operating costs of a project. A bank sloped or shored before it slides in cost less than it does to take the dirt out of the trench again and again. Besides there is always the chance of the worker getting buried or being badly injured. This office feels it can count on you who have helped to establish such a good record, to continue to watch your project carefully, teach your men to work safely, and do all in your power to prevent accidents to your men or to the public.

There is a human tendency, when a situation seems well in hand, to lessen the efforts which control the situation. Let us beware of this tendency lest it bring a serious accident down upon us while we are kidding ourselves that all is well in control. We must keep up the work of safety education and accident prevention on and off the job. It is only by so doing that we will maintain the present high standard of preventing accidents. We may climb higher or we may fall to the last place. It depends on every last man which way we go. It makes us all feel good when we are doing a good piece of work and the opposite when things go wrong. Let us continue to have that feeling of happiness by doing our work the right (safe) way.

—Our motto—(No lost time accidents).

Thanking you again for your wholehearted cooperation, I remain, Very truly yours, HARFORD S. SHULTZ, Executive Director.

Sailor on Tanker At Kingston Point Hurt While Painting Boat

E. Wheeler, a sailor on the Texas tanker, New Jersey, engaged in painting on the starboard side of the tanker as it lay anchored in the mid-Hudson, opposite the Keystone Oil Co. dock, fell into the water about 12:30 this afternoon, when the scaffold tipped. At the same time the heavy bucket of paint fell and struck him on the head, knocking him unconscious.

Wheeler was in the water but about five minutes when he was rescued by another sailor.

Charles Alecca, of I Beach street, who runs a motor launch between the ship and the dock, brought word to Officer Frank Sammons in the patrol car. A pulmotor was secured from the central fire station and Dr. J. Lehnner also answered a call.

Wheeler was still unconscious at 2:15 this afternoon, when he was taken in Conner's ambulance to the Kingston Hospital. Dr. Lehnner expressed the opinion that he would recover, much of his trouble having arisen from the fact that he had swallowed a considerable quantity of the paint which was spilled from the bucket as it fell.

The tanker arrived at its mooring place Wednesday morning at 10:45 and they have been busy since that time pumping the oil it contained into barges.

Kiwanis Approves Proposed Charter

In a straw vote members of the Kiwanis Club today approved the proposed new charter for the city of Kingston by a vote of 28 to 6. The vote followed a discussion of the various parts of the charter, it being agreed before the meeting opened that members of the club would not be quoted in the public press.

One of the points developed in the discussion was that if certain small sections of the charter did not meet with approval, the entire document should not be discarded, but that the vote should be cast on the charter as a whole.

Special music for the occasion was provided through Walter Kidd of the music committee, who presented Miss Carol Brelas, who rendered a number of vocal selections which merited and received marked applause. Miss Brelas and her companion, Miss Helen VanWert, are both from Ellenville.

Regular music for the occasion was in charge of Paul Zucca, assisted at the piano by Danny Blitner.

ADVENTURE.

New Yorker Studies Freeman and Gets What He Wanted.

The other day a New York city business man purchased a Freeman at 42nd street and Broadway. Glancing through the pages he saw the Hardenbergh Co. advertisement on Schilling beds. This man wanted a special type of bed and was supplied with it promptly. This story could easily prove the far reaching effect of Freeman advertising.

Will Try New March.—Some of the business men whose "march" on Capitol Hill yesterday in behalf of NRA was overshadowed by the bonus struggle planned to try again today to reach their congressmen with appeals for a two-year extension of the recovery organization. After the visitors had gone to the bill in a fleet of taxicabs, only to find most members of Congress absorbed in the President's bonus veto message, leaders suggested that as many as possible remain overnight and continue the effort.

Hold He Should Know.—John Lowe of 122 North Front street, arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct on Wednesday night, told Judge Callahan in police court today that he had walked into the Mitchell House on North Front street seeking to obtain a room for the night. He was charged with entering the Mitchell House and walking up the stairs and sitting down on the top stair. The hearing was adjourned to Monday to get the officer's story of the arrest.

Mrs. Hoyt in Hospital.—Mrs. Julia Boyd Hoyt, socially prominent actress, who has been seriously ill of pneumonia aboard the liner Rex, was taken to a hospital today when the liner arrived. Physicians said her condition was improved. Her mother, Mrs. W. L. Robbins, accompanied her.

Little to Quarter-Back.—St. Ann's-on-the-Spot, Elm, May 23 (AP)—Preserved all the way, William Lawson Little, Jr., of San Francisco, the defending champion, defeated James L. Black, former Welsh champion, two up this afternoon in the quarter-final round of the British amateur golf championship.

Handful of Senators Hold Key to Fate of Bonus Bill

Washington, May 23 (AP)—A handful of senators held the key today to the fate of the Patman Bonus bill in the senate.

There are 95 members at present. A two-thirds vote is required to pass a bill over a veto. That means the bonus forces must get 64 votes against 31.

Administration leaders counted on the 35 votes against the Patman bill two weeks ago as a solid nucleus to sustain the president.

That would give them a margin if none switched. They were assured of one more, Senator Pope (D-Ia.), and hoped for several more changes in their favor.

Bonus forces were not conceding defeat, but they admitted they knew of no changes in their favor.

Hupfel Brewery Co. Agents Have Inspected The Barmann Brewery

That the Barmann brewery may operate again is indicated by the interest of the J. Chr. G. Hupfel Brewery of New York city in the local plant.

It has been learned from a reliable source that agents from the Hupfel concern were in Kingston recently and with Henry Forst of the Forst Packing Company and Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman inspected the plant.

The mayor had nothing information to say concerning the brewery and activities to open it, he being interested solely from the standpoint of seeing another source of employment started for Kingston men.

Mr. Forst was not ready to say anything definite on the proposition today. "I am waiting to hear from the Hupfel people," he told a reporter.

Special Agent H. Lowry, stationed at the Barmann plant by the federal government, was questioned concerning the activities being carried on in connection with the proposed opening of the brewery, but emphatically gave a reporter to understand that he had nothing to say.

A check on the bulletin board at the Ulster county court house to learn the names of attorneys connected with the sale of the brewery, the notice having been posted some time ago, revealed that it had been removed.

250,000 WORKERS READY TO STRIKE IN NEW YORK

New York, May 23 (AP)—More than 250,000 trade union workers were under orders from their organizations today to stop work at 3 p. m. in protest against the wage scales set by President Roosevelt for the government's work relief program.

Many of those who leave their jobs early planned to march in mass formation to a Madison Square Garden mass meeting called by the Central Trades and Labor Council and affiliated organizations.

Speakers at the meeting have announced they will devote part of their addresses to criticism of the President's work relief order, though the main purpose of the meeting is to agitate for passage of the Wagner labor disputes bill, the Black-Cannery 30-hour week bill, and a greater and stronger NRA.

Mayor LaGuardia, President William Green of the A. F. of L., Senator Robert F. Wagner, and President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers are among the scheduled speakers.

Fulton's Prediction.—Buffalo, N. Y., May 22 (AP)—The Republicans will elect five and possibly six, of the eight assemblymen from Erie county in this fall's election, in the opinion of Melvin C. Fulton of Norwich, chairman of the Republican state committee. The Democrats at present hold five of the eight places but on the basis of data gathered by party leaders and laid before him during a survey of the political situation in Erie county, Fulton today said he was "firmly convinced" his party would retain the third and sixth districts "while prospects for regaining the fifth are very bright."

Treasury Receipts.—Washington, May 23 (AP)—The position of the treasury on May 23 was: Receipts, $48,545,936.40; expenditures, $52,542,556.13; balance, $1,606,369,659.54; customs receipts for the month, $21,227,260.79; July 1, $2,243,274,289.77; expenditures, $6,259,582,160.72 (including $2,377,546,802.47 of emergency expenditures); excess of expenditures, $4,016,307,870.95; gross debt $28,578,848,290.98; a decrease of $1,428,268.75 under the previous day; gold assets, $4,750,044,524.01.

Senators Commuted.—Albany, N. Y., May 23 (AP)—Governor Herbert H. Lehman today commuted to life imprisonment the sentences of Joseph Jerome and Thomas Saunders, scheduled to die tonight in Sing Sing prison for the murder of a New York city policeman.

Bonus Supporters Concede Their Campaign To Override President Roosevelt's Veto Is Lost Barring Last-Minute Changes.

BORAH TALKS

Senator Borah Urges The Senate Today To Pass the $2,200,000,000 Inflationary Measure.

Washington, May 23 (AP)—As Patman bonus bill supporters conceded their campaign to override President Roosevelt's veto was lost, barring last-minute changes, Senator Borah (R-Ia.) today urged the senate to pass the $2,200,000,000 inflationary measure.

"I make no concealment, I offer no apology," he said, "for the belief that the country needs a larger volume of money, a larger volume of currency. For that reason I believe this bill is in harmony with the interests of the entire country."

As the momentous vote, expected late in the afternoon, neared, Senator Long (D-La.) who had been optimistic of over-riding the veto, predicted the administration would win by five votes.

Democratic leaders said so far as they knew they had not lost a single one of the 35 votes cast against the bill two weeks ago and predicted the final roll call would show almost 40 votes to uphold the president.

Packed galleries listened intently to a rather cut and dried debate until Borah took the floor. Veterans, some in khaki, were sprinkled through the throng.

Speaking calmly, Borah stressed the monetary features of the bill. "I realize and fully appreciate the value of the measure to the veterans, but I believe the effect upon the country would be only secondary in beneficial results," he said.

Louis Ward, representative of Father Coughlin, listened to the debate from a senate gallery.

Did Not Support Theory.—Borah explained he had not supported originally the theory that congress should compensate the soldiers with $1.25 a day for the service they had performed "for entering into the hell holes of Europe to rescue civilization," but the government anyhow had entered that obligation.

With his hands resting on his desk, the senator in carefully chosen words ridiculed the idea that "time" was a controlling factor in paying the soldier debt.

He said all three plans originally before the senate, including the Harrison bill which was "supposed" to have had the approval of Mr. Roosevelt, contemplated payment now and "acknowledged the fact that payment at this time would be equitable and just."

"What contracts," he said, "have been observed technically under the catalysis through which we have been passing? This government has disregarded its contracts because of the depression. Other governments have disregarded their with us. Citizens have disregarded contracts between themselves."

"If we should hold the soldier to the technical terms of his contract he would be the only person so dealt with in this depression."

Quotes a Veteran.—Borah quoted from an unnamed veteran of St. Louis who sent him a letter saying he was drafted from a $2,000 job and had had his 75 per cent disability compensation revoked by the economy act and was now living with his family on the dole.

Thousands of others are living in the same way, Borah said, adding: "Would it be fair for the government to say to them, notwithstanding you are on the way to a pauper's grave, we won't change the technical terms of your contract?"

Suggesting the "controlling reason" guiding the President to veto the bonus bill was the fear of "printing press money" and inflation, he asked:

"Can anyone say that with eight and one-half billion in gold in the treasury and one one-half billion in silver in the treasury, and with the credit of the government behind it, that issuing of $2,000,000,000 in currency is inflationary?"

"It isn't even starting with inflation," he said, answering his own question.

No Relation to France.—He declared no relationship existed between this and the collapse of finance in France, France, he said, "carried it to an extreme." He recalled the experience in the United States during the Civil War when currency was issued at a rate of costs, and said Secretary Chase of the treasury stopped it when there was danger of over-issue.

It was true, he said, that the currency depreciated to 50 cents on the dollar, but he added the government's bonds were down then to that value.

As between the bonds which bore interest and the notes which bore no interest, he said, "I ask you which was the greater friend of the union in its hour of distress?"

Senate Pushes Toward Vote.—Amid general prediction that President Roosevelt's veto would be sustained by a slender margin, the Senate today pushed toward a vote

POLITICS at Random

NOISE-MAKING among the political radicals has been so deafening lately that the real significance of certain maneuvering among the conservatives has escaped general notice.

The object of these right-wing operations is, of course, to find a way in which those conservatives of all parties who regard the Roosevelt policies as fantastic, un-American and doomed to failure, can be welded into one voting unit in 1936.

Broadly, three possible courses have been proposed:

1. Revival of the republican party, under conservative auspices, and nomination for President of some republican with sufficient appeal to induce conservative democrats to leave their party.
2. Nomination of a conservative democrat with a large democratic following, such as Alfred E. Smith, on the republican ticket.
3. Abandonment of the republican party entirely, and nomination of an outstanding democrat on a "conservative democratic" or "conservative independent" ticket.

Rehabilitation Favored
OF THESE three alternatives, only the first-named would be thoroughly orthodox, and conservatives are inclined by nature to be orthodox.

Unquestionably at this moment the proposal to rehabilitate the republican party is far more in favor than either of the other two.

But the difficulties of that are more obvious as time goes on, many, and may easily become more. One consideration is that an out-and-out republican right-wing campaign could be counted on to alignate still further the western republicans independents.

Another is that it might fall also to attract many democrats. The party tie is pretty strong among the democratic old-liners who make up the conservative wing. Besides it is not easy to induce voters to leave a party when it is in power, after years of lean waiting.

A third problem is to find the candidate who fulfills the specifications as set forth in the plan.

Smith Nomination Talked
THE proposal to nominate a democrat on the republican ticket seems not to have got very far among the politicians, although it has been much-discussed among business men.

A movement to obtain the G. O. P. nomination for former Governor Smith is definitely afoot, backed by the argument that he is satisfactory to conservative republicans and offers the one real means of uniting conservative votes against Mr. Roosevelt.

It should be said, however, that even those promoting the project do not appear very hopeful, and Mr. Smith himself has shown no sign of giving encouragement.

As for the third alternative, there was a time when its achievement

By SYRON PRICE
(Chief of Bureau, Associated Press, Washington)

seemed possible, but things have changed. Republican leaders, impressed with what they interpret as a definite popular swing away from Roosevelt, are far advanced with their plans to carry on in 1936. Just now, at any rate, the third possibility is at bottom of the heap.

Third Party Idea Slipping
THOSE who have been seeking the magic formula for a union of the conservatives of all parties appear convinced that the only real opposition which can be interposed against the Roosevelt ticket next year must come from the conservative side.

They are more certain every day that Mr. Roosevelt will get the bulk of the left-wingers into camp before election day, and they point out that the left-wing third party idea is rapidly petering out.

The La Follette progressives, amid praise for the present administration, decide against putting a ticket of their own into the field. The Sinclair followers incline toward Roosevelt, says their leader, Father Coughlin continues hopeful that the good in the Roosevelt regime yet can be saved.

A breaking down of any prospect of union at that extreme means a redoubling of effort to form a real union at the other extreme, because it increases the conviction of the conservatives that they, and they alone, can stand between Mr. Roosevelt and a reelection.

15 Strikers Routed
Brussels, May 23 (AP)—Fifteen striking miners, barricaded in their workings, threatened a hunger strike today after police drove hundreds of their comrades to the surface by hurling tear gas bombs into the shafts. A tense atmosphere prevailed throughout the coal production area as 100,000 additional men threatened to join the 12,000 already on strike and tie up every mine in the vicinity. The walkout produced political repercussions in the cabinet of Premier Paul Van Zeeland. Several Socialist ministers in the union government were reported to be considering resigning in sympathy with the strikers. The walkout was called to enforce demands for higher wages.

The total cost of all labor on cost-account farms in New York state in 1933 averaged $2,864 for each farm; since there were 10,227 hours of labor, the average cost each hour was 28 cents. This is the lowest cost for farm labor since 1915.

Calcium Chloride To Be Used By Contractor To Lay E. Chester Dust

With the signing of the contract by the Sheehan Construction Corporation to build the East Chester street by-pass the street came under the jurisdiction of the contractor, but before the contract was signed

Mayor C. J. Heiseleman took up the matter of having the dust on the street laid.

The state furnishes the calcium chloride to be used in laying the dust and the mayor got in touch with the state authorities and the calcium chloride was shipped and arrived here Wednesday.

This morning Mayor Heiseleman drove out to the rear of Cooper's Farm on the Saugerties road where the by-pass hooks up to S-W. and interviewed the superintendent of construction in charge of the work, and the superintendent promised the mayor that the calcium chloride would be applied on the road this afternoon.

WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, May 23.—Word comes from Wilfred Bronson that he is preparator of a new museum being built up in Morristown, N. J. He is very busy with the work, doing a great deal of scientific research. Mr. and Mrs. Bronson plan not to return to their home this summer.

Friends of Philip Thawley, injured in a recent auto accident, will be glad to hear that his condition is less serious than it has been for the last week.

Another of the new bridges is in use near Peace Justice Wallace Shultz's home.

John Faggi is spending a week with his parents in Woodstock.

Noel Thompson writes from Miami that she has just been selected with a group of about 30 freshmen at Miami University for the Freshman Honor Society of the university. She is one of the six highest freshmen girls in scholarship ratings.

Caroline Rohland entertained

nearly 50 guests at a cocktail party at her home on Sunday. Mrs. Rohland, who has opened a shop at her home, selling decorative plants, prints and small paintings by Woodstock artists, will be remembered in Kingston for her award at a recent flower show there, where she exhibited some of her rare selections.

Mrs. Glenn Thomas has become a member of the volunteer corps of assistants at the library.

Among week-enders in Woodstock were Miss Elsi Goddard, Mrs. Rugg and Bob Briggs.

The awnings on the Kalle and Park restaurant and the Inn have been freshly painted for the season. Mrs. O. C. Schrader, Ruth and Wallace Greenwood write enroute to Miami that they are having a pleasant trip and "All is well". Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Simpkins accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Morris Downes to Monticello on Sunday. Ivan Sumner's sister and three children were guests of the Sumners over the week-end.

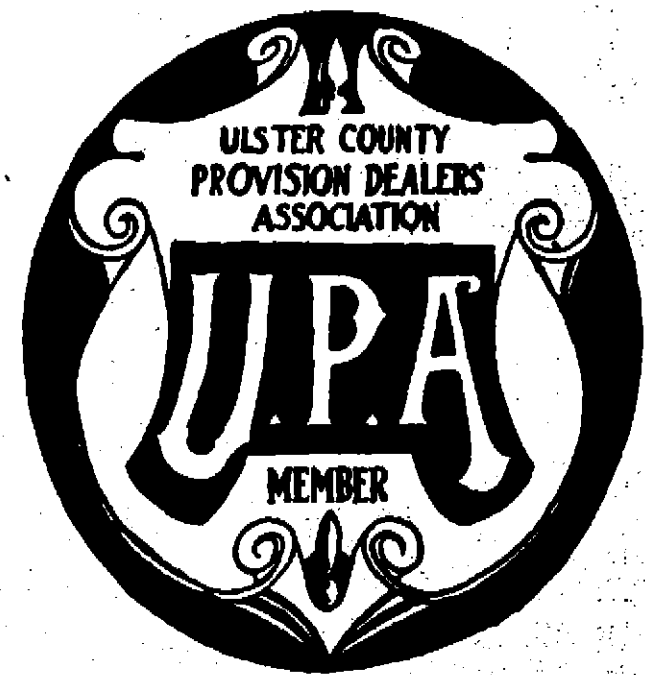

Because spittle bugs hatched too late, Oregon's strawberry crop is expected to be good this year.

Attack on Obedient Ship
New York, May 23 (AP)—Leaders of the steel industry launched a concerted attack on the closed shop, labor union activity and the Wagner bill at the 45th general meeting of the Iron and Steel Institute today. "We stand squarely for the open shop," declared Eugene G. Grace, president of the institute in his keynote address. Grace called the Wagner bill "vicious." T. M. Girdler, chairman and president of the Republic Steel Corporation, termed it "the outstanding legislative monkey wrench which today threatens to jam the wheels of recovery."

How First Relief Billion Will Be Spent

The map shows how most of the first billion dollars of the four billion dollar federal work-relief fund has been allocated. The allocation totals $1,091,802,200. The figures in the states, without dollar signs, represent dollars for highway and street construction and elimination of grade crossings. The sum of such allotments in the 48 states amounts to $400,000,000. Allotments totaling $100,000,000 were also made under the Hayden-Cartwright act to care for previously incurred obligations to the states. These sums are not included in the map since much of this work is already under way, some of it having been started last year. Twenty projects included in the $102,185,000 for rivers and harbors are shown. In this group projects of less than $1,000,000 do not appear on the map. Of the $245,860,000 allocated for low cost housing, announcement of how $58,391,000 will be spent has been made. The announced projects are shown. In addition to these projects, $10,000,000 has been allocated for the Passamaquoddy Bay electric light and power project at Eastport, Maine; $100,000,000 for Wisconsin's unified work-relief program sponsored by Senator La Follette; and $20,000,000 for five dams on the Colorado river in Texas to provide irrigation, flood control and power plants. Not shown on the map but also announced as allocated were $100,000,000 for resettlement projects; $7,800,000 for New York City sewers; $1,420,000 for non-federal projects not designated; and $448,500 for roads in Alaska. How the balance of $139,200 would be spent was not announced.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—In southern reconstruction days "40 acres and a mule" was held out as a glittering promise by the carpetbaggers.

That has nothing to do with Paul Kelly, reddish-haired Irish actor, except that Paul's dream of a "blue heaven" he hopes to evoke from picture earnings begins with a hundred acres and a horse. That's where it begins—from there it goes on to include several more horses, an airplane, a combination polo and landing field, and more time than he now has to devote to what will then be his trio of hobbies: polo, photography, and flying. He has not yet learned to fly, but he already takes pictures and plays polo with equal ardor.

Once A Child Star

The hundred acres—enough for a home, stables, and the field—will be somewhere in the east. His idea is to spend the spring of the year there, until such time as it can become a permanent home. If film contracts were as informal as they were in the early days when Kelly first met a camera, he could break off any time and tell the studios goodbye. As it is, he has a year's contract to fulfill before he could go east, even if he had his hundred acres and wanted to leave.

At 35 Paul Kelly is a film veteran of the rarest order, one who was a child actor in pictures and who, growing up, kept at them at intervals until now he is more of a film figure than before. His home in Flatbush, Brooklyn, adjoined the early Vitaphone studios. Paul at seven was already on the stage.

"The picture people had no sets and 'props,' and they liked to borrow the Kelly family's furniture. And then they started using Paul as well as the furniture. He became the 'Vitaphone boy.' Stage people didn't like to have their associates know they were in the lowly movies, so nobody kicked about the lack of 'screen credit,' which today is eagerly sought.

"Back In Stock"

Because pictures were only an avocation, Paul left whenever he could on a stage tour. The procedure was simply to tell the boss he was going, and to leave. On returning, he reported back for a job and "All right, son," was the answer. "You're back in stock at thirty a week."

John Barry, Norma Talmadge, Lillian Walker, the Sidney Drews, Anita Stewart, Earle Williams, Maurice Costello, Florence Turner—all of whom were Vitaphone stars—were among Kelly's associates in those days.

But Kelly, once the "Vitaphone boy," became a prominent screen juvenile, got screen credit, and store then has "commodities" between stage and screen. His last visit has been successful enough to keep him here.

At The Theatres

Today.

Broadway: "Traveling Saleslady." How women do in the ancient art of salesmanship is demonstrated by Joan Blondell and Glenda Farrell in this laugh novelty that gives the two young ladies every opportunity of turning on their charm. There are some funny moments during the film, some of the dialogue is enjoyably humorous and the work of Hugh Herbert and Ruth Donnelly in the supporting cast is a highlight of the show.

Orpheum: "Enter Madame" and "Circus Shadows." Elsie Landi is to be seen as a temperamental artist in the first attraction, a singer who feels she has the world at her feet and who is finally cut down to her proper size by the man who loves her. "Circus Shadows" is another one of those stories woven around folk who live under the spread of the tents. Dorothy Wilson heads the cast.

Kingston: "The Case of the Curious Bride" and "I've Been Around." Perry Mason, ace detective and man about town, steps in and solves his most baffling murder mystery for your benefit in the opening feature at the Kingston. Mr. Mason is an old "smoothie" and he handles his murders with charm and grace. This kill drama is unusual because it hinges around the peculiar circumstance of a man being murdered twice, if such a thing could possibly be. Warren William is a gracious Perry Mason and Margaret Lindsay and Allen Jenkins add beauty and spice to an interesting and well acted play. "I've Been Around" is the second feature with Chester Morris starred.

Tomorrow

Broadway: Same.

Orpheum: "Little Colonel" and "Square Shooter." Shirley Temple, surrounded by a cast of M. G. M. stars, triumphs again in a story of the old south, where she brings her mother and grandfather together after five years of separation due to misunderstanding. It's a sweet, friendly picture, filled with pretty scenery and childish trust. Lionel Barrymore, Evelyn Venable and John Lodge are in the supporting cast. But Bill Robinson, negro dancing artist, just about steals the picture with his performance. "Square Shooter" tells of the latest doings of Tim McCoy. It has constant action and slight plausibility.

Kingston: "Four Hours to Kill." Stark, tense drama is this picture that brings the talented Richard Barthelmess back to the screen after a long absence. Star of many hit pictures, Mr. Barthelmess was never more real and sincere than in his latest characterization. Cast as a doomed killer, on his way across country to hang, he passes four hours in a theatre handcuffed to his guard. In that four hours of waiting the little killer gets redemption. For sheer tenderness and electrifying atmosphere, the incident when he breaks away from his guard and runs loose in the theatre, is as dramatic stuff as one could seek. Although the play is melodramatic, the character offered by Mr. Barthelmess is a study in human frailty. He makes his killer a pathetic person, filled with alternating spasms of fear and bravery, of perplexity and wonder. The show was taken from the stage hit "Small Miracle" by Norman Krassna. The cast offers one Morrison, Ray Milland, Helen Mack, Gertrude Michael and Charles Wilson. Real drama, played with skill and dexterity and directed with vigor and understanding. One of the don't miss shows of the season.

In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of rods, reels, lines, hooks, flies, worms and spinners.

Rosendale Vacation Guide Makes Hit

At the regular monthly meeting of the Rosendale Township Association held in the Rosendale Firemen's Hall last Monday night, comprehensive reports on the 1935 edition of the Rosendale Vacation Guide, a 36 page illustrated booklet, were given. About 200 people attended the session during which eight exhibition boxing matches were also staged.

The report of the publicity committee stated that cost of the printing of the booklet was more than covered by the receipts from advertising. The report also stated that there will be practically no cost in connection with the distribution of the booklet this year. The distribution of the 6,000 copies will be made by the transportation companies interested in the booklet and by the personnel departments of many of the large metropolitan business houses which have been contacted by a representative of the association.

A large number of last year's booklets were distributed through the personnel managers of large corporations and when Bernard Yeopp, representing the association, went to interview the same people about distributing the booklets this year, he was greeted very cordially, according to his report. The various executives interviewed by Mr. Yeopp on his two day trip demanded more booklets for their employees than could possibly be supplied.

Mr. Yeopp's report concluded with the statement that the Rosendale Township Association Booklet has made a hit with some of the biggest executives in the metropolitan area, and the outlook for getting some of the employees of these large organizations as vacationists is very bright.

Mrs. Mary L. O'Connor, chairman of the community improvement committee, reported that entries for the Garden Contest were coming in slow. She emphasized that pictures before improvement is undertaken should be sent to her by June 1. The contest will be judged chiefly upon degree of improvement.

Mrs. O'Connor expressed the thanks of her committee to the schools for the attractive posters they made to advertise clean-up week.

Referring to the proposed improvement of the triangle on the new route 32 near the bridge, Mrs. O'Connor stated that estimates for the cost of such improvement had been secured and suggested a card party or other entertainment to raise the funds.

Mrs. O'Connor concluded her report by stating that Henry Mollemauer had brought two bushels of dahlia bulbs to the meeting for distribution to those wanting them.

The meeting was then turned over to Joseph O'Connor, chairman of the entertainment committee. He announced that to experiment as to the possibility of introducing boxing matches to the town of Rosendale, a series of matches had been arranged for the night.

The matches were secured through the courtesy and cooperation of Jack Daley of Rosendale, Joseph Rodden of Kingston, Vincent Coffey of Kingston, referee, and Joe Kelly, sports editor of The Freeman, timekeeper.

Eight bouts were staged and all were received with enthusiasm.

Uncle Sam is mighty, Uncle Sam is strong.
And his bags of money are quite wide and long.
His strength and his wealth may well be trusted.
But he isn't so rich that he can't be busted.

A teacher in the history class was trying to get into the minds of her pupils the meaning of "niche" which occurs often in connection with cathedrals. To be sure they understood she asked:

Teacher—What is a niche in a church?

Pupil—An itch in a church is like any other itch, only harder to get at.

Radio entertainers are complaining about the great shortage of good comic material. We have noticed this too. Some of the jokes we have heard over the radio lately have whiskers longer than grandpa's.

Fair Plaintiff—When I get on the witness stand, I suppose that I'll have to bare everything.

Her Lawyer—Oh, no! I think not; it'll be sufficient if you merely cross your legs.

A woman may think herself unattractive, but never doubts the man who says he is a fool about her.

A crowd of young people in New Orleans was discussing the subject of ice skating. Only one of the crowd had ever lived in the North so the question was put to her as to how long it took her to learn how to skate on ice. The reply was: "Oh, you can learn a lot in one sitting."

Not enjoyment and not sorrow

But to act that each tomorrow

Cuthbert—Tomorrow night, Maudine, I intend to ask your father for the consent to our marriage in June.

Maudine—Do! I'll bring you flowers every day until you're out again. You know, I've never seen inside of a hospital.

My idea of a large sum of money is that which is being wasted in this great country of ours now by people who are handling other people's money.

Doesn't the Bible give some advice about "first take the mote out of thine own eye?" Here is a very good example of the workings of an average busybody.

Stranger—How many cigars do you smoke a day?

Native—About ten.

Stranger—What do they cost you?

Native—Twenty cents apiece.

Stranger—My, that's $2.00 a day. How long have you been smoking?

Native—Thirty years.

Stranger—$2.00 a day for thirty years is a lot of money.

Native—Yes, it is.

Stranger—Do you see that office building on the corner?

Native—Yes.

Stranger—If you had never smoked in your life you might own that fine building.

Native (looking at the building as he smokes)—Do you smoke?

Stranger—No, never did.

Native—Do you own that building?

Stranger—No.

Native—Well, I do.

Americanism: Spending more than any other nation to educate the people; the largest crowd always following the leader whose promises contain the least sense.

The girl next door says that no matter how hard she tries to hold them, money and men just seem to slip through her fingers. He gave her a glass of honey and a bottle of glue.

Judge—Is it true you married this woman because you thought her maiden aunt had a lot of money?

Husband—That's not so, Judge. If I'd have known her aunt had a lot of money, I'd have married the aunt.

More than 100,000 acres of rich bottom land in Texas and Oklahoma were under water and in Louisiana the flooded area extended from just below New Orleans to the northern part of the state to the south-central section below Alexandria.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

Just to Ogle.

New York—Americans like bargain prices! Not for ferryboat rides between New York and Hoboken, N. J., the Lackawanna Railroad boosted the fare to five cents with the explanation too many complaints had been received about the "nuisance" of a 4-cent fare.

Nature Note.

Mays Landing, N. J.—Southern New Jersey farmers are looking for a pest eradication to eradicate a pest they imported to eradicate other pests.

The vicious circles started with mosquitoes and Japanese beetles. The praying mantis, a carnivorous insect despite its pious pose, was introduced to destroy them.

Now farmers find the mantis multiplying so fast that it is becoming a pest, preying on honey bees and other valuable insects.

What's In a Name?

Buffalo, N. Y.—George Washington, Kenmore resident, reported to police the theft of clothing and other articles from his automobile yesterday.

Last night they were left in a burial bag on his porch. With them was a note explaining: "I see by the newspaper that you lost these and couldn't bear to think I took them from so famous a man like George Washington.

Not Sallow Made.

La Junta, Colo.—Only two men showed any interest when J. O. Martin came here to sign recruits for the United States Navy. Martin wasn't interested, however. One had fat feet, the other a wooden leg.

Twin Troubles.

Abilene, Kas.—Problems which instructors in the Abilene High School had to face this year will be erased soon—three sets of twins are graduating.

The three sets of doubles causing confusion among the teachers and students alike were Doris and Virginia Eicholtz, Wayne and Dwight Zook and Harold and Harry Todd.

Kreuger Executed

Berlin, May 23 (AP)—Wilhelm Kreuger of Dusseldorf was executed today for betraying military secrets. He was convicted last October. Reichsfuehrer Hitler declined to extend him clemency.

Parker county, Texas, peach growers reported their orchards have set one of the largest crops in recent years.

MEET the WIFE

S. Mrs. Harry L. Hopkins.

Barbara Hopkins doesn't like "violent social life" so occasionally "ducks out" on her much-in-demand husband, Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator. She prefers groups of intimate friends... likes to knit for her daughter, Diana... is fond of book-talk... reads much in the hours her husband is kept at his desk. When she does step out she is a relief for the eyes... slender... with ivory skin, dark eyes... no rouge... bright red lipstick and fingernails to match... soft voice and a warm smile. She was born Barbara Duncan in Port Huron, Mich... swam the St. Clair river when she was ten... spent two years at the University at Ann Arbor... took a hospital course in New York, where she did welfare work... and met her husband, now nation's No. 1 welfare worker.

6 Men Killed

Canton, May 23 (AP)—Six men were killed and 44 injured in a freak airplane accident at the Canton military aviation field Tuesday. An airplane smashed into a building, killing the pilot instantly. The wall fell in upon 49 soldiers listening to a lecture. Five of them were fatally injured.

While American motion pictures predominate in the larger theaters in China, low-priced picture houses are supplied almost entirely by Chinese producers.

NEW ECONOMY OF FAMOUS AMERICAN CAR SWEEPS WORLD MARKETS

Check shows his 1935 Dodge gives 20 miles per gallon with ordinary gas

In foreign markets, the high cost of petrol (gas) is one of a number of reasons for Dodge increased popularity.

And here in America, too, the amazing economy and value of the 1935 Dodge is setting new high sales records in all parts of the country.

Writing of the remarkable gas and oil savings of his 1935 Dodge, R. T. Hall, Ballinger, Texas, says: "It is easily the most outstanding car that I have ever owned from the standpoint of economy and performance.

making twenty miles or better from ordinary gasoline."

With its economy you also get new comfort in the "Airglide Ride"—new safety with Dodge all-steel body and perfected dual cylinder hydraulic brakes. Drive the new Dodge. See for yourself what a rugged yet luxurious automobile you can get for only a few dollars more than the lowest-priced car. Now... $945 and up, f.o.b. factory, Detroit.

6 Navy Fliers Killed In Crash

Indicated the entire crew died without knowing they crashed.

Similar Tragedy Averted

Monday a similar tragedy was narrowly averted when another giant patrol craft sank. The craft became disabled 90 miles north of Midway Island, western landmark of the naval maneuvers, but succeeded in coming down safely near her tender, the minelayer Montgomery. The minelayer rescued the crew of six just before the plane sank.

These planes were among the first aircraft to fly to lonely Midway Island, 1200 miles west of Hawaii.

2 Other Deaths

Two other deaths had previously marred the maneuvers.

One flier went down with his plane off Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, and one man was killed in the crash of the destroyers Lea and Slocard.

Two other collisions occurred without injury to personnel. The destroyer Decatur cut seven holes in her side when she crashed against the armor of the battleship Arizona while refueling at sea several hundred miles west of Hawaii. The holes were stopped with mattresses and an emergency wooden bulkhead, and she returned safely to Pearl Harbor.

Not far away on the same day the destroyer Buchanan crushed her starboard propeller when she crashed against the flagship Pennsylvania's armor. This also was during fueling from a battleship on the high seas, work normally done from oilers which were left behind to permit the fleet maneuvers with greater speed.

She returned with the Decatur to her Hawaiian base.

Crucial "Battle"

The crucial battle of the maneuvers between the Black and White fleets was fought at dawn Wednesday, a few miles off Midway. Throughout the night destroyers carried out devastating torpedo attacks, but the main engagement, although it was the first to start at dawn in the history of the maneuvers, lacked the greatest spectacular thrills and the much anticipated power of the aircraft which did not participate.

After the battle and the fruitless search for the doomed albatross, the fleet turned toward Hawaii, where it will arrive Saturday and Sunday.

Forty patrol planes begin the return flight from Midway to Hawaii Thursday, stopping enroute at French Frigate Shoals.

Mayor Heiselman Signed New Charter

detail of the new charter agree that they should have charter revision. Hundreds of citizens in this country have already adopted charters similar to the one recommended by our Charter Commission and adopted by the Common Council, and they are operating successfully. There is no reason why three cities in the state of New York which still retain the old form of charter, such as ours, called the widely decentralized form, which is obsolete in many respects and not conducive to a business-like administration of municipal affairs.

I believe the new charter will appeal to the sound common sense of our citizens and that its adoption will mean increased economy and efficiency in governmental operations. It will place the responsibility where it cannot be evaded and our people will know who is responsible for the results obtained.

I therefore have approved Local Law No. 2 of 1935, known as Local Law No. 16 of the City of Kingston, as adopted by the Common Council, after amendment. I urge all citizens to carefully study the new charter, copies of which may be obtained from the city clerk's office, in order that the voters of this city may intelligently, and with open minds and without prejudice, go to the polls on July 23 to vote for a new and modern constitution of our city.

FATHER WITH A CHILDREN IN NEED OF FURNITURE

At the local emergency relief bureau this morning it was stated that investigators had found a man with a family of eight children and only five chairs in the house, and anyone desiring to donate chairs are asked to get in touch with the bureau and they will be called for. The man said that if the chairs needed repairs he would be only too glad to do the work himself. He also needed a mattress for a bed and a baby carriage.

Well Known Ball Player Dead

Frank Ward, former widely known ball player, died at his home in Lansingburgh Tuesday. He started his baseball career with the Troy Y. M. C. A. team in 1901 and later played with Northern New York, Connecticut and Hudson River League teams, having played with Glens Falls in 1906 and 1907.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why external remedies seldom give quick and permanent relief? Why cutting does not remove the cause? Do you know the cause of Piles is internal?

That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins bulge, the parts inflame?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy for Piles, Hemorrhoids or protruding piles discovered by Dr. Leavelle and known as HEMOROIDIN that is guaranteed?

HEMOROIDIN functions along the mucous membrane of the rectum, it stimulates the circulation in the lower bowel, drives out the thick, dark, sticky mucus, and restores the normal tone and all good symptoms follow. It is a safe, reliable, and effective remedy for Piles, Hemorrhoids, and all good symptoms follow. It is a safe, reliable, and effective remedy for Piles, Hemorrhoids, and all good symptoms follow.

Parent-Teacher Associations

P. T. A. School No. 2

May meeting of P. T. A., School No. 2 was held Tuesday afternoon at 3:30. Mrs. A. Salzman, presiding.

A delightful program was given by the children of the lower grades arranged by Miss Fogarty and Miss Van Vlieden as follows:

Song, Ten Little Indian Boys
Ten boys of the first grade
Songs, Will you take tea with me?
Three from first grade
Dickory, Dickory Dock
Ten children, first grade
Solo by Dorothy Walters
Dance, Little sister come with me
Play, Brown Birds
Children of the fourth room

The regular order of business then followed. The by-laws were read and adopted. It was decided to have a party for the room having the greatest percentage of membership for the year.

The following officers were elected and installed: President, Mrs. J. Campbell; first vice-president, Mrs. G. Simpkins; second vice-president, Mrs. Frank Walters; secretary, Mrs. Howard Lewis; treasurer, Mrs. Harry Richter.

At the close of the installation Mr. Russell presented Mrs. A. Salzman with a little token in appreciation for her work during the past year.

Four rooms were tied for the banner for the month, Miss Fogarty, Miss Van Vlieden, Miss Burbanck and Miss McCullough. Delicious refreshments were served by the hospitality committee.

High School P. T. A.

The May meeting of the High School Parent-Teacher Association was held Tuesday afternoon, May 21, in Miss Cordes' room. The president, Mrs. Van Gaasbeek, presided. The annual reports were read and accepted. The nominating committee, with Mrs. J. Carle, chairman, presented the new ticket which was unanimously elected.

The next officers are: President, Mrs. Chester Van Gaasbeek; first vice-president, Mrs. N. Murdock; second vice-president, Mrs. F. Egan; third vice-president, C. Dunam; secretary, Mrs. Harry Clearwater; treasurer, George Kenny.

There was quite a long discussion concerning the number of meetings to be held each year. It is customary to have a meeting each month, on the third Tuesday, from October to May inclusive. Most people have children in grade schools as well as high school, hence they attend at least two Parent-Teacher meetings each month. It seemed to be the consensus of opinion that this was asking quite a good deal of the parents.

The president talked with representatives of the other high school associations at the Spring Conference, last Saturday, May 18, and found them holding similar views. So it was suggested that we try having three meetings the coming year. One to be held in October, one in January, and one in April, with an afternoon meeting in May for the installation of officers as usual.

All these meetings will be held the third Tuesday of the month. The tentative plans for these three larger meetings were discussed. It was suggested that the October meeting would be a good time to have an exhibition of the students' work. This would be of special benefit to the parents of entering freshmen. They would have an opportunity to see the type of work done in the high school, how it is conducted, what is expected of the pupil, and how they can cooperate to bring this about. All parents would have an opportunity to meet the teachers of their boys and girls and talk over their problems together.

A speaker seemed desirable for the January meeting—one who could tell us more about the Junior High School situation, changing curricula and Regents' examinations—with a general discussion to stimulate interest.

For the April program, the students' talents would be called into play. Some type of demonstration by the younger folks would be equally interesting to parents and teachers alike—thus keeping the trilogy intact—Parent-Teacher-Child.

After this interesting discussion refreshments were served by the hospitality committee.

INTERESTING PROGRAM FOR YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

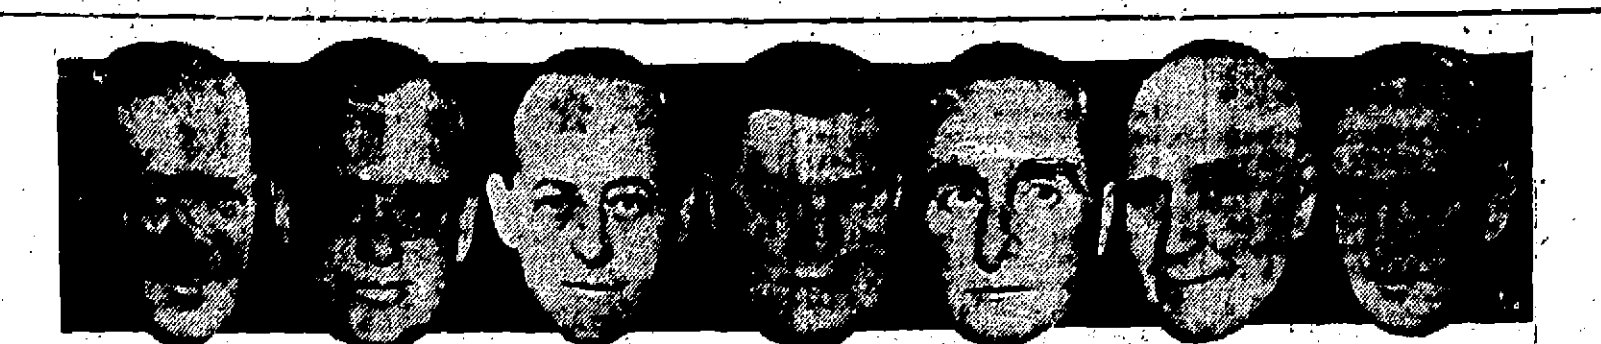

An interesting and inspiring program awaits the youth of the Classis of Ulster of the Reformed Church when they meet at the First Dutch Church of Kingston Friday evening, at 8 o'clock.

Youth Fellowship is a recent development among the youth of the Reformed Church. Especially has it been strong in the western section of the church. At some rallies as high as 2,000 young people have met together, some traveling many miles in order to attend. At a recent meeting in New Jersey there were 1,500 in attendance. A large attendance is expected at the meeting tomorrow evening.

Following is the program for the meeting:

Organ Prelude
Hymn No. 732
Prayer of Invocation
The Rev. A. E. Oudemool
Scripture reading
The Rev. C. C. Chilton

G. O. P. Sprouts 1936 Crop Of 'Eligibles'

With its "grass roots" assembly of party leaders in nine states scheduled for June 10 and 11 at Springfield, Ill., the Republican Party is expected to attempt clearing the decks for the 1936 nominating convention still a year away. Among the imposing group of names being handled about as 1936 nomination possibilities are those of the men seen here—

By KIRKE SIMPSON

Washington, (AP)—Whatever party deficiency may be prompting the urge to Republican activity, there is no shortage of "lightning rods" for the 1936 presidential nomination.

Except for the Solid South, every section has at least one man regarded by his friends—and presumably by himself—as eligible. Some states have an embarrassment of such riches. And it is expected that most of them will be at least mentioned at the G. O. P. "grass roots" conference at Springfield, Ill., June 10 and 11.

Roosevelt Seems Certain.

There is no parallel on the Democratic side. Unless something now unforeseen utterly changes the picture, Mr. Roosevelt seems due for a third ballot renomination in June, 1936. It might not be unanimous, but could be so decided as to have that appearance.

Calling the roll of Republican nomination possibilities is not so simple a matter. Beginning with former President Hoover, the list carries down through a considerable group of party elder statesmen of the Hoover administration period to the handful of juniors who won their party political spurs in '32 or '34 by resisting Democratic tidal waves in governorship fights.

Leaders of the various Republican off-year reorganization moves insist on question of candidates is yet involved. Issues come first, they say, issues and organization.

Last Imposing.

However, an imposing array of names have been handed about speculatively for that '36 Republican effort to end, or at least make a start to end, the Roosevelt sweep. Besides Mr. Hoover there is the veteran Charles Curtis of Kansas, former vice-president. Like Hoover, only more definitely, he is "not seeking office." There is, however, always the "draft."

There are at least three former Hoover cabinet members who bob in and out of '36 presidential talk. Ogden Mills and Henry Stimson of New York cannot be overlooked any more than can Representative James Wadsworth of the Empire state. Representative Bertrand Snell of New York, Republican leader in the house for two congresses, also is mentioned, usually as a vice-presidential possibility, however.

Another Hoover cabinet man who might bob up is Patrick Hurley of Oklahoma and Washington, D. C. His wisecracks about his political future being behind him have not many takers among political observers. And what about Charles McNary of Oregon, veteran Republican leader in the senate, is considered more likely to get uncontested favor than Mr. Hoover, whose California base of operations is threatened by Governor Merriam's supposed eagerness of '36 prospects.

Borah Constant.

Like Wadsworth, Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan has been trotted constantly into the race since '32.

There is always Borah of Idaho. He has been a prospective candidate so long without coming close to a nomination that his name is certain to be heard if party "liberals" take over the '36 show. No instances of party irregularity lie against him as against Norris of Nebraska.

Getting down to the Republican governors other than Merriam, Hoffman of New Jersey and Buck of Delaware both have enjoyed tentative endorsement for '36 higher honors. In the central west the name of Landon of Kansas has loomed up from time to time. There is talk, too, of former Governor Winant of New Hampshire.

Even this casual and incomplete list of Republican 1936 possibilities indicates the difficulties the convention will have reaching a choice unless much preliminary spadework is done without delay. Although no two-thirds rule impedes Republican convention action as it does with a Democratic nominating group, wide distribution of state support among favorite sons conceivably could produce some deadlock as that which produced Harding in 1920. Good politics requires preliminary ground clearing to avoid that.

Clean Out Kidney Poisons

Wash Out Your 20 Miles of Kidney Tubes
If kidneys don't pass 2 pints a day and get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters may become clogged with poisonous waste and the danger of acid poisoning is greatly increased. Bladder passages are difficult, which often smart and burn like scalding water and cause discomfort.

This acid condition, brought about by poor kidney function, is a danger signal and may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and disordered bowels.

Most people watch their bowels which contain only 27 feet of intestine but neglect the kidneys which contain 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters. If these tubes or filters become clogged with poisons, it may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't run any risk. Make sure your kidneys empty 2 pints a day.

Ask your druggist for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, an old prescription, which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

Liquor Authority
To Act on Renewals

Albany, N. Y., May 23 (AP)—The state liquor authority prepared today to act on applications for renewal of 1935-36 beer licenses with an estimated yield to New York state of approximately $6,000,000.

Present permits for breweries and retail and wholesale purposes expire June 30. New licenses will remain in effect for one year.

Applications already are being received at the three zone offices in Albany, New York and Buffalo, said Captain John J. Judson, executive officer. "We will act on them as soon as we are satisfied as to the character of the licenses."

It is expected that 50,000 establishments will be relicensed, based on figures for the past year.

A total of $5,427,381.91 was derived from regular retail sale beer permits in 1934, in addition to $48,450 received from summer retail licenses, and $700,000 from brewers, wholesalers, railroads and vessels for that period.

National guard trucks hurried 300 families from their lowland homes in Oklahoma City to the high slopes of a city park a few hours before floodwaters from the North Canadian river were expected to strike. Pre-Nuptial Fetes
Are Climaxed Today

Stockholm, May 23 (AP)—The pre-nuptial activities of Princess Ingrid and Crown Prince Frederik of Denmark reached their climax today with a reception in city hall in honor of visiting royalty and other celebrities.

Tonight the royal couple will attend a gala performance in the Royal Opera House, their last public appearance before the wedding ceremonies tomorrow morning which will place Ingrid in direct line of succession as Denmark's next queen.

King Gustaf was host last night at a musical soiree in the royal palace attended by two other European monarchs and 800 additional guests, many of royal or noble birth.

Among them were King Leopold and Queen Astrid of Belgium, King Christian and Queen Alexandrine of Denmark and former Crown Prince Wilhelm of Germany.

John Wilkin Was a
Genuine Sportsman

John Wilkin, veteran sportsman and long recognized as one of the strongest leaders in the Democratic party in Orange county, died at his home in Middletown Tuesday, aged 81 years.

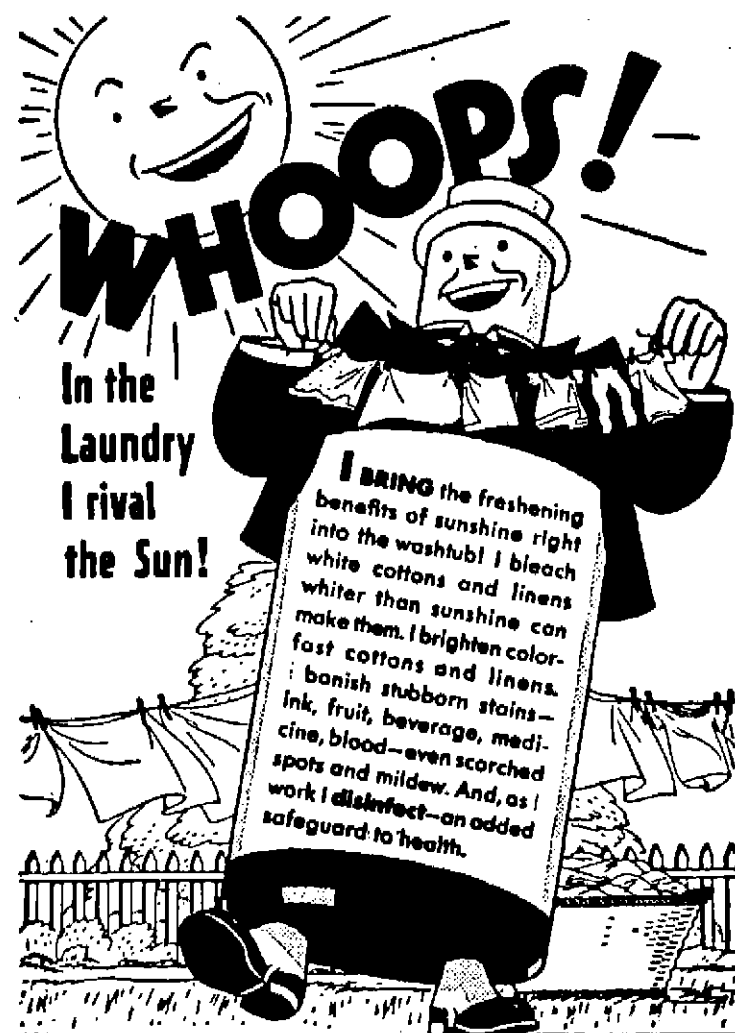

At the time of his death Mr. Wilkin was president of the Orange County Federation of Fish and Game Clubs and secretary-treasurer of the Shawangunk Fish and Game Association, a position he had held for many years. Recently Governor Lehman named him as chairman of Orange county's committee on the celebration of the 50th anniversary of conservation in New York state.

The Times-Herald, in a well written tribute, quotes the motto upon the old sportsman's trout reel, "All the fish is not in fishing," and says, among other things:

"Conservation was Mr. Wilkin's life work. The monument is mighty. It was he who liberated the first pheasants in southern New York,—perhaps the whole state as well. That was nearly three decades ago. The trout he poured into countless streams would run into the millions. Conservation commissioners came and went. They all knew him. Those who knew him not intimately had no real finger on the sportsman's pulse."

"He was the man who saved so that others might enjoy."

Schirick Directs Jury Find No Cause Verdict In Insurance Case Here

Justice Schirick Holds Insurance Policy of James Hamilton Could Not Have Been in Effect Beyond Nov. 19, 1927.

$25,000 ACTION

Trial Comes To End Following Two Days of Complicated and Technical Insurance Testimony.

Holding that under even the most favorable calculations the insurance policy of James Hamilton could not have been in effect beyond November 19, 1927, Justice Harry E. Schirick late Wednesday afternoon dismissed the complaint on motion of Andrew J. Cook who appeared for the New York Life Insurance Company, defendant, in the action brought by Mary Hamilton of Gardiner, plaintiff, to recover under a $25,000 life insurance policy which her husband had taken out in 1911.

Justice Schirick granted the motion of defendant to dismiss and directed the jury find a verdict of no cause of action. The end of the trial came at the conclusion of testimony, following two days of complicated and technical insurance testimony.

Mr. Hamilton in 1911 took out a life insurance policy for $25,000. He paid premiums for three years and then having assigned the policy to a construction company and later to his wife he proceeded to apply dividends declared annually toward the payment of the premium and borrowed against the policy on premium notes to pay the balance of the annual premium, until in 1917 he defaulted and the policy lapsed. The company figured the cash surrender value of the policy and under the terms of the policy and the law of the state of New York extended the life of the policy for a period of time until premiums had eaten up the cash surrender value of the policy. Then the policy was voided. This expiration period the company contended was in January of 1919 when they claimed the policy became void.

Had No Right to Borrow

However, Mrs. Hamilton contended that since the policy had been assigned to her, Mr. Hamilton had no right to borrow against the policy and that the insurance company was wrong in having loaned him the money. She claimed therefore that the company owed her the full amount of the money which had been advanced to Mr. Hamilton while she was assignee of the policy. Further she contended that if the company had not loaned on the policy the value of the policy would have been much more and had that value been applied on the payment of future premiums the policy would have remained in effect much longer and she would have been able to collect money at the death of Mr. Hamilton in 1930. In addition she claimed that it was not necessary to go even that far as she claimed that the policy could not be lapsed and closed out without notice to the assignee or policy holder and she testified she never was sent notice by the company of the closing out of the policy for non-payment of premiums. She testified that she would have been able to pay premiums on at least a portion of the insurance had she been notified. In addition she claimed that a certain dividend amounting to some $160 had been due and the company had used it to pay for additional paid up life insurance to the amount of some $290. This she claimed at least was due her. Proof was offered in an attempt to show that the $160 dividend paid for the $290 life insurance for the rest of the insured's life and that no additional premium being required that this insurance was in effect so long as the insured lived and was payable at his death.

Testimony for the defense was offered to show that the $160 dividend had been used to purchase paid up insurance to the amount of some $290, but that under the terms of the policy this added insurance was in effect only so long as the original policy was in effect and that when the premium was not paid in 1917 the paid up value of this added insurance was calculated together with the value of the original policy, less loans made and this extended the policy in the face sum until some time in 1919.

A hypothetical question was asked one of the men from the New York Life Insurance Company by Mr. Cook for the defense, designed to show how far the insurance could have been paid for in advance using the calculations based on Mrs. Hamilton's claim that the loans had been illegally made to Mr. Hamilton while she was assignee of the policy. On this hypothesis the testimony showed that under the most favorable calculations the policy could not have been in effect beyond November, 1927.

Testimony was offered to show that in closing out the policy it had been done in compliance with the statute of the state and that under the terms of the policy and the law the policy could be closed out by notice in three months or without notice in a year. The company did not close out the policy and convert it into paid up extended insurance until some weeks after the year had expired as required by law.

Denies Juror Be Withdrawn

Following the conclusion of testimony Mr. Cook moved to amend his answer to comply with the proof in the case. This was objected to by counsel for plaintiff. Counsel for plaintiff objected and pleaded surprise and asked that a juror be withdrawn and a mistrial declared. He argued that he did not have time to meet any amendments. Justice Schirick stated that the testimony was in and the amendment was simply to make the answer conform to the proof which already was in as regarding figures, etc.

Following granting of this motion by the court and the denial of the right to withdraw a juror Mrs. Hamilton was re-called and testified she never received any notice from the company in relation to forfeiture of the policy. She said she never signed or made application for any premium loans on the policy and never authorized the loans to Mr. Hamilton while she was assignee of the policy and she never knew of the loans up to 1927 when her husband told her the policy had lapsed. At that time she saved the policy. She then took out a $1,000 policy on her husband in another company. Had she been notified at that time she said she could have retained a portion of the New York Life policy but not in the full amount of $25,000.

Was in a Hospital

Cross examined by Mr. Cook for defense she said in 1916 while at Olean where Mr. Hamilton was in a hospital, she made inquiry as to whether the policy was in effect and he told her it was then. She never made further inquiry and did not know the policy lapsed until 1927. She said no attention to the policy until 1934 when she asked an agent about whether the policy had any value. The New York Life Company then told her for the first time that Mr. Hamilton had borrowed against the policy. She said she did not deny he borrowed the money but she did not authorize it or get the money and she did not believe the money he borrowed without her authority while she was the owner of the policy should be deducted from the policy.

Mrs. Hamilton said that from 1917 to 1927 she lived at Gardiner but never received any word from the insurance company.

At this point testimony was close and Mr. Cook moved to dismiss the complaint. He said it affirmatively appeared that the premium was never paid in 1917 or thereafter and that more than a year had expired before the policy was lapsed and that it also appeared from the testimony and calculations made that even the most favorable method of calculating showed that the policy could not have been in effect beyond November, 1927, while Mr. Hamilton did not die until 1930.

Justice Schirick said he did not see what question remained for the jury to decide. During the argument and motions the jury had been excluded from the court room. Plaintiff argued that no notice had ever been sent the plaintiff and therefore she could not elect what optional plan under the policy she desired to take.

The court stated that the matter of notice was out of the case as the company had waited over a year as required by the statute.

Grants Defendant's Motion

Justice Schirick then said he would grant the motion of defendant; that the policy had lapsed; that the plaintiff had three months in which to decide what option named in the policy she elected to avail herself of; that this was not done and the company had exercised its right given in the terms of the policy to give extended insurance and that it appeared that under no conditions could this insurance have been in effect beyond November 19, 1927.

The jury was brought in and the court directed the jury to find for the defendant. The jury was polled and the verdict of no cause of action entered.

Andrew J. Cook appeared for the defendant and Harold Mortimer Brown appeared for the plaintiff.

K. of C. Demonstration

The Fourth Degree Assembly of the third New York State District, Knights of Columbus, will hold a demonstration at Troy, N. Y., Sunday afternoon, June 9, in the Hendrick Hudson Hotel. Patrick T. Murphy of Kingston, master of the Third District, will preside. Starting time of the demonstration is 2 o'clock. Following it there will be a banquet. A number of other Kingstonians, members of the Fourth Degree Assembly, will accompany Mr. Murphy to Troy.

Use of Anemone

There is a sure cure for the daffodil of that wintering garden period between the last of the early spring perennials and before arrival of the late summer bloomers: plant anemone. Petunias, verbena, geranium, sweet alyssum, and ageratum all belong to this group. After the spring thaw in the garden, these flowers of color become instantly, they may be effectively screened by a border of anemone which will continue blooming until the last frost.

Robbers Loot Fifth Avenue Jewelry Store

New York, May 23 (AP)—Concealed in robbery obtained jewelry worth $75,000 in the holdup of a Fifth Avenue store, an inventory revealed today.

Only 33 of the many pieces of jewelry in the Rom Pennell Company's shop were taken, but they were selected with care and averaged more than $900 each in value. One was a 45-carat emerald ring worth $12,000.

Three men held up the store. The first two covered Wallace Pennell, one of the proprietors, and two clerks, with pistols, escorted them to the rear of the store, and bound and gagged them. Then the third entered with a brief case and made his selections.

Hatless and coatless, he climbed into the show window while scores of homeward-bound pedestrians hurried past. There he chose the emerald ring and a diamond ring valued at $2,000, then went to the safe. Diamond and emerald rings, bracelets and watches followed the two show-window pieces into the brief case.

His work done, he signalled his companions, who ordered their three prisoners into the cellar. Pennell on his way downstairs set off an alarm and the Protective Agency, where it registered, notified police. Within three minutes radio cars screamed down the avenue to the shop, but there was no trace of the robbers.

Police found Pennell and his employees in the cellar. The proprietor set to work on the slow job of taking an inventory and, when through, announced that the value of the 32 stolen pieces was at least half that of the entire stock in the store.

Senate Debates
Bonus Bill Today

to determine whether the Patman bonus bill will become law or be rejected.

Administration leaders counted on the Senate to stop enactment of the measure to pay off the bonus by issuing $2,300,000,000 of new currency.

After President Roosevelt yesterday warned the legislation would invite disastrous inflation, the House voted 322 to 93 to override the chief executive's veto.

As the Senate met at 10 a. m. (Eastern Standard Time), two hours earlier than usual to speed a final vote, telegrams for the Patman bill were received in large numbers.

Administration forces claimed, however, to be gaining strength to sustain the chief executive.

Senator Thomas (D-Okla.), Patman bill leader, opened debate in the Senate chamber, with his hands on his desk, as he talked under an agreement limiting debate to 30 minutes for each senator.

He reviewed what he termed the discrepancy between what the soldiers got for fighting and the profits of civilians at home. Then he turned to the monetary phase of the bonus bill, a subject closer to his heart than any other.

"The messages are coming in like raindrops," one official said. He refused to estimate the total.

New Garage Completed. Concentration of Operation by Adirondack Transit Lines—All Activities Centered in City.

With the completion of its modern and spacious garage now under construction here, the Adirondack Transit Lines (The Short Line) makes Kingston the center of all of its operating activities. The new building is located next to the Municipal Auditorium building and adjoins the Kingston Bus Station.

John Van Gonsle, president of Adirondack Transit Lines, in a statement issued today, pointed out that the development of Kingston as a central operating point for their lines was planned when the lines established service between Kingston and New York nine years ago, with a nucleus of two buses. Today, Adirondack Transit Lines is one of the leading motor bus operations in America, particularly as regards efficiency of operation and safety record. The recent purchase of five new coaches of modern design brings the total equipment to 15 units.

The Kingston Bus Station was opened earlier in the year, and now with the completion of the new garage, the entire forces of Adirondack Transit Lines, comprising throughout the year, personnel of from 50 to 75 employees, are being moved from New York to Kingston.

These three major steps forward have brought a real transportation industry to Kingston, which because of its central location, will add immeasurably to the efficient operation of the Adirondack Transit Lines in its service between New York, Kingston, Albany and Adirondack points and New York, Kingston and Oneonta.

James H. Rand Arrested.

Barnstable, Mass., May 23 (AP).—James H. Rand, recently wealthy resident of North Plainfield and father of James H. Rand, Jr., organizer of the Remington Rand Co. of Tonawanda, N. Y., today faced charges of evading the state income tax. State Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long said Rand was arrested yesterday and lodged in the Barnstable jail. He will be given a hearing in the Barnstable district court. Long said Rand was specifically charged with failure to pay $2,000 in taxes for the three-year period of 1927 to 1929. He estimated that the total amount Rand owed the state was $24,000.

The galleries were filled with spectators and many others were in the corridors eager to get into the chamber.

Telegraph company officials reported that Father Charles E. Coughlin's appeal in New York last night to flood the Senate with telegrams for the bill was bearing fruit. "The messages are coming in like raindrops," one official said. He refused to estimate the total.

Thomas Opens Debate

Thomas stood near the rear of the Senate chamber, with his hands on his desk, as he talked under an agreement limiting debate to 30 minutes for each senator.

He reviewed what he termed the discrepancy between what the soldiers got for fighting and the profits of civilians at home. Then he turned to the monetary phase of the bonus bill, a subject closer to his heart than any other.

Most of the senators were on the floor. Senator Long (D., La.), another friend of the bill, was sitting in the rear of the chamber chatting with Rep. Taftman (D., Tex.), author of the inflationary measure.

In the galleries were many veterans, some in khaki, sprinkled among the capacity throng backed up even against the wall. There was a quorum call at the outset of the session to make certain sufficient senators were present to transact business.

Thomas conceded "there is very little new to say of the necessity or desirability for payment of the bonus now."

Pointing out that the dollar already had been "devalued" by 40 per cent, Thomas declared "it is doubtful that the dollars they (the veterans) would receive in 1945 would have even the buying power they now have."

"We have now reached that point in the depression," the trimly dressed Oklahoman said, "where we have uncontrolled expansion in bonds."

Replying to the President's statement in his veto message that payment of the bonus now would remove the insurance protection until maturity in 1945, Thomas asserted that 3,000,000 already had borrowed half on their certificates and in 1945 the interest would have eaten up all but about $100 of the rest each was due to receive.

"For those 3,000,000," he said, "the insurance has been destroyed already."

Thomas told his colleagues 23 senators who voted against the Patman bill in 1932 "are not here today."

"If the sitting members of congress will not pass it," he asserted, "the country has a way of enacting its legislation and that way is obvious to every member."

Conceding by implication that the veto would be sustained, he forecast it would not kill the issue.

"It will be more alive in the morning than it is at this good hour," he said. "When 80 per cent of the congress and the country crystallize their desire for legislation it is only a question of time before it becomes law."

Even before his 30 minutes had expired, Thomas relinquished the floor, with the statement, "I am ready for the roll to be called."

Dieterich Takes the Floor

Senator Dieterich (D-Ill.) who voted against the bill two weeks ago, opened debate for the administration forces.

Contending the issue had been "misunderstood," the Illinois senator, who rarely participates in debate, said the bonus was only incidental to the monetary provisions of the Patman measure.

He argued that not more than three of the 222 members of the house who voted to override the President's veto understood the monetary provisions of the bill.

New Industry in Part Of Lorillard Plant

A new industry that at the start will employ 10 skilled men has leased part of the former Lorillard plant on Grand street, and will commence operations shortly. The new industry was obtained through the efforts of John K. Loucks, owner of the Lorillard plant, working with Mayor Heintzelman's industrial committee and Max Reben, purchasing agent and assistant executive director of the ERS. The name of the new concern and what it will manufacture was not made public at this time.

Friday it is expected that several of the members of the industrial committee, together with Mr. Reben will go to New York city where they will get in touch with three industrial concerns in an effort to have them locate in Kingston. Mr. Reben is devoting part of his time to the work of contacting concerns who are seeking sites for industrial plants.

A number of local farmers have completed their corn planting, while others still are holding off for warmer weather. The Ashokan Indians used to plant corn when the leaves of the white oak tree were "as big as a squirrel's foot." The Indian rule and the almanac signs coincided this year and those who followed them did their planting at about the time of the full moon.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Whispell of Big Indian were recent callers at the home of Mr. Whispell's sister, Mrs. Claude Rose, and family.

Friday, May 23, 1935, the funeral took place of Norman B. Crispell, farmer and boarding house proprietor who resided on the Shokan-Bushkill road. Mr. Crispell was survived by his wife, who was Ullria Every, and a son, Merritt, both of whom later became residents of Stone Ridge.

May 24, 1935, Ashokan Commissioners Ernest Shea and Merritt Diefel a report of awards in the Moorebeck-Patchia and Willard H. Davis claims against the city of New York. Total of awards made for real estate was $65,175. The claim involved several parcels of land, riparian rights, etc., and the property was in several different ownerships. This was the most complicated of the hundreds of Ashokan claims and the taking of the 6,244 pages of testimony occupied one year. Refine Patchia and other members of the family of that name, together with Mrs. Churchill and Willard Davis were among the claimants.

Our office boys say they would save his money for a rainy day but he is afraid we will run into one of those seven year droughts and he will then be too old to enjoy spending the money.

MAY BUILD HOUSES OF EGGS AND MILK

Better and Cheaper Building Materials Promised.

New York.—Even eggs and milk may enter the making of new construction materials in a building boom predicted by famous chemists at the opening session of the American Chemical Society's tercentenary celebration.

A boom in the building industry inspired by discoveries of chemists, many of them made during the depression, was forecast by Prof. James H. Whitrow of Ohio State university. This inspiration includes better and cheaper materials, he said, than even those provided by nature.

New mineral wools were listed as promising heat and cold insulation at low cost. Electric wires will have thinner insulation, both safer and requiring much less space for wiring. Artificial stones are already made in every color and with any degree of hardness a customer desires. New glues smell no longer eat, but hug of various sorts no longer get them.

Lightweight Bricks.

Bricks that partake of the lightness of thistle-down, and other lightweight construction materials promise much higher, yet even safer skyscrapers.

F. Lee Smith, chief architect of the technical division of the Federal Housing administration said:

"In addition to the basic building materials, we might add practically all the known substances, both organic and inorganic in character. "Even milk, eggs, and other food products can be included in this list, although the connection appears to be rather remote. Resins, oils, gases and vegetable fibers have a place in the construction of buildings."

Dr. Walter J. Pothelinski, Chicago chemist, told the scientists of his new separating device, which, he said, would make it possible to buy the rarest perfumes at penny prices, eliminate the hangover in whisky and instantly age liquors. He called his invention a "super container" and explained that it will separate the tiniest impurity from any liquid.

As to the Hangover.

The "hangover," according to Doctor Pothelinski, is caused by the presence of certain impurities always found in "new" whisky. They are partly removed by aging from four to eight years in charred oak barrels, but are completely removed by the new whirling machine.

In another report, C. F. Schnabel of Kansas City declared that eating cereal grass is better than eating carrots, spinach, lettuce or a dozen other well-known vegetable greens.

He said the great food value of grass had remained unknown because previous tests were made when the grass was too old. Old grass, he said, loses two-thirds of its protein food values.

He tested young cereal grasses such as oats, wheat, barley and rye, cutting them before they formed their first joints. He said that one pound of this grass contained as much vitamin and "green" value as 50 pounds of lettuce.

By Schnabel's method the grass is dried and ground. He said that it may be used in baking cookies, pancakes and chocolate candy with good results on the flavor.

Fingerprints Sent by

Radio Aid to Detectives

London.—Transmission of fingerprints by radio is the latest link between science and criminal detection—a link that is being more strongly forced by Scotland Yard every day.

Experiments were begun several months ago. Although not yet regarded as an everyday, practical business, considerable improvement has recently been made in the results obtained.

At first the images were blurred, even when sent from enlarged prints, but greater technical experience is gradually overcoming this drawback.

The time is very near when in urgent cases, portable apparatus will be used to transmit fingerprints direct from the scene of the crime to Scotland Yard records, it was predicted.

As the technique of wire and radio transmission improves, it will be possible to send life-size fingerprint photographs speedily over any distance, police believe.

City Has to Fence Self

In to Keep Cattle Out

Milford, Texas.—Depredations of cattle that roam the streets of Wink, town of 1,000 near here, at Wink have caused the city authorities to resort to the old stand-by of ranch country wire fences.

Mayor Theodore of Wink bought cedar posts and the entire corporation of Wink will be forced off, because like the cities of old, which were walled in—except that the wall will be barbed wire in this case.

With the outside cattle fenced out, those who keep cows inside the corporate limits of Wink will be required either to keep them staked out or in the pen, as an ordinance forbids free stock of any kind running at large.

Aged Man's Getting

A Third Set of Teeth

Superior, Wis.—Seven years ago, C. H. Wright, now seventy-eight years old, had all of his teeth extracted. He didn't believe in false teeth and got along with an iron set of teeth begun pushing through his gums. He's got three new sets and expects to have a full set before long.

No Consideration, Lehman Says

Albany, N. Y., May 23 (AP)—Governor Herbert H. Lehman in a brief formal statement said today that he has given "no thought or consideration whatsoever" as to whether he will be a candidate for reelection in 1936.

Golfer's "Slice" Costs Liberty Club $15,000

New York, May 23 (AP)—A golfer's "slice," apparently causing a ball driven from the course of the Saltzman County Golf and Country Club at Liberty, N. Y., to crash through the windshield of a car operated there by August Sachs of the Bronx, has cost $15,000 in settlement of a suit for $100,000, the office of Samuel Zeiger, Sachs' attorney, announced today.

Sachs sued the club, contending that flying glass cost him the sight of one eye. The club paid out $5,000 and the Travel Insurance Company $10,000 in settlement, Zeiger's office disclosed.

The complainant reserved the right to proceed for an additional sum up to $100,000 against E. R. Fletcher, high school principal of Middletown, Herkimer county, who is charged with having driven the ball while a guest player at the club in July, 1933, Zeiger's office said.

In keeping with a practice started several years ago, American Legion flags are fluttering over the grave of every known veteran of American wars buried in town of Olive cemeteries. The cemeteries were visited Sunday afternoon by a detail of members of Phenicia Post, American Legion, consisting of Past Commanders James A. Simpson and Joseph Schoonmaker, and Legionnaires Harlow McLean and Charles H. Weidner. Uncle John Duxbury of Broadhead, Olive's last man Civil War veteran, keenly to his disappointment as well as the members of the detail, did not accompany as formerly. Mr. Duxbury is approaching his 93rd birthday, which falls on June 24. "Uncle John" is by no means incapacitated either physically or mentally, but did not deem it best to go out in the chilling atmosphere and wind prevailing Sunday.

F., No. 491. The visitors in fulfilling promises played their dark baseball equipment, playing a three-game series with the Shokan brothers after meeting. The first two games were short outs for the visitors but the home towners after getting the hang of the game a bit won the nightcap, 4-1. Grover Christian put the game on ice by bagging a home run with two on bases.

Cherry Creek Riots

Denver, May 23 (AP)—Rising waters of Cherry Creek, source of a disastrous flood two years ago, lay down on the city today but officials scouted the possibility the rise would result in damage. Flood warnings were relayed in the lowlands. Some business men in the warehouse district moved their stocks from basements and special crews were called out to protect bridges in the city. Heavy rains in the Black Forest in the Lake Gulch region southeast of Castle Rock, Colo., coupled with general rains over the entire section were responsible for the rise.

Coughlin Says F.D.R. Vetoes American Folk, Asks Use of Telegrams

New York, May 23 (AP)—With bitter denunciation of the President and "autocratic capitalism," the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin called on a widely responsive throng to deluge the United States Senate today with telegrams demanding enactment of the Bonus bill.

The occasion was the Michigan priest's organization of a New York unit of his National Union for Social Justice last night in his campaign to "Restore America to the Americans."

The thousands who filled Madison Square Garden—12 seats 18,000—gave tremendous ovations to his tirades against "pampered creators of money," to his demand for a "proper distribution" of the products of labor, and to his attack on the present-day veto of the Bonus bill.

Speaks on Veto

Of the veto Father Coughlin declared:

"You heard the President of the United States condemn class legislation, as he called it, while for years he and his predecessors in office have been upholding this very class legislation for the benefit of the tinny bankers."

"Wednesday, May 22, 1935, once more has demonstrated that no one dare breathe against their will."

"I'm afraid it wasn't the soldiers alone who were vetoed. It was the American people."

"The 'real contest' in the bonus fight, the priest said, 'is identified with this question: Has or has not Congress the right to coin and regulate money?'"

Father Coughlin declared the regulation of money must be stripped from the bankers and returned to Congress.

"Social Justice teaches that the elected representatives of the people have the sole right to regulate the value of money," he cried out.

"This is Christianity. It is not Communism."

Rants Against Press

The priest frequently motioned toward the reporters' tables in assaults on the press. On one occasion, flinging one arm high in the air, he shouted:

"I'm about fed up with the news papers."

The press, he declared, has paid heed to "the thin, selfish voice of the financier" and "more or less suppressed the voice of the people."

The priest once again linked the President and the "money changers" in his attack on the wage scale of public works projects.

Schryvers Blank Hercules In Fastest Game Of Season

Bill Schryver's Lumbermen took full possession of first place in the City League by blanking the Hercules to the tune of 3 to 0 at the Athletic Field, Wednesday evening. Up until last night's game the two teams were in a tie for the much sought lead. Four of the six teams now are in a deadlock for second place.

The game was the fastest played in the circuit this season. It took about one hour of actual playing and some of the finest fielding of the year was seen during the short time. Players of both teams shone on the field.

Hits were at a premium, only one player being able to garner more than one safety. Bill Thomas got two for three. But the most timely bit of the evening was delivered by Jack Robins, who really won the game for the Lumbermen, with a single, which drove in the first two runs.

Big Boy Shackett, who stands over six feet and half from Saugerties, was the winning pitcher. He held the Powdermen to three meagre singles and at no time was in trouble. Nary a one of the Powdermen was able to get by second base.

Ken Best opposed Shackett and was nicked for six hits. Although he got into trouble often he managed to squeeze through pretty well with the exception of the fourth inning.

In this inning he made the mistake of pitching to Robins with runners on second and third. Thomas reached third on a single, a stolen base and an infield out, and Joyce reached second on the same infield out after being hit by a pitched ball. Then Robins inserted his bingle and both runners tallied.

Thomas' second hit, a single to left field, gave the Lumbermen their other tally. He stole second again, advanced to third on a wild pitch and romped home on Cullum's error of Glaser's grounder.

SIDELINERS

Quite a reversal from Tuesday night's game. For three innings nothing but goose eggs were rung up.

Tommy Davitt was another big factor in the win. He accepted nine chances without the least semblance of an error and robbed Dulin of a hit in the third.

Johnny Carpenter and Ken Best also got the applause of the fans by making fine stops.

Each team has played two games and the standing of the clubs find Schryvers the only team with no losses and Ad Jones' Dairymen the only team with no wins.

Six full innings had been played before the sun bothered the players. Bill Schryver is contemplating on running a canvas from Jacobson's to the trees to try and overcome this big handicap.

GAME TONIGHT
The Crystal Beauty Shoppe Red-drewns and the North Roadout Social Club are slated to meet at the Athletic Field this evening at 6:15 sharp. Both teams have won one and lost one and both will be trying hard to keep over the .500 mark. The Red-drewns found their batting eye in their game with the Dairymen Tuesday night and if the Red-drewns continue their heavy slugging it will be hard on the pitchers. But Ted Freidrich of the Red-drewns and Joe Brown of the Dairymen think they will be able to quell the big bats. So, if weather permits, a good game should be in store for the fans.

Young Mason county, Texas, cat-towners are blue ribbon winners. In three years 4-H Club boys produced the grand champion shown at Fort Worth, San Antonio, Houston, Tama-saw and El Paso.

Looking Over The Prospects for the All Star Baseball Teams

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

New York, May 22 (AP).—If per-formances mean anything, it will be difficult to keep a couple of rookies off this year's all-star major league ball game, to be held in the wide open spaces of Cleveland's lake-front municipal stadium.

We refer, of course, to John Whitehead of the White Sox and Darrell (Cy) Blanton of the Pirates, pitching sensations of the spring campaign. They will not draw start-ing assignments, even if they are lucky enough to make the all-star squads, but they are certain to poll a flock of votes.

After all, it should be a good idea to have a few freshmen around for the big occasion, at least to ripen them for future varsity appearances.

With plans already shaping up for the game and speculation rife as to the possible opening lineups, the one certainty is that both all-star teams will have playing managers. As pilots of the 1934 championship clubs, the master-minding assign-ments go to Frankie Frisch of the Cardinals and Mickey Cochrane of the Tigers. The club owners decid-ed on this procedure last year to avoid arguments.

Main Assignments Easy

There will not be much doubt about the main assignments on either side, now that the managers have authority to use their judg-ment, without regard to the outcome of any popular balloting for the all-stars.

Jimmie Fox was arbitrarily placed at third base for the Ameri-can League last season, for instance, and might be put there again, to give the team the benefit of all available hitting power, inasmuch as Captain Lou Gehrig of the Yankees undoubtedly will get the call at first base, with Cochrane starting behind the bat.

Charlie Gehring of the Tigers and Manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox probably will complete the American League infield but it is difficult to choose an all-star out-field. Al Simmons and Earl Averill probably belong in it. Indian Bob Johnson of the Athletics has been going great guns and seems entitled to the call over Ben Chapman, Helms Manush or others who have served the all-star cause in the past. A National League infield con-sists of Bill Terry, Frankie Frisch, Arky Vaughan and Pepper Martin would be satisfactory. Freddy Lind-strom, back at third for the Cubs, might give Martin an argument in a popular vote, but this is doubtful. Dick Bartell's injury would seem to put him out of running as a rival for the slugging Vaughan at short.

Babe Ruth for Pinch Hitter
The Nationals shape up stronger in the outfield, with Joe Medwick, Mel Ott and Paul Waner for the first line, supported by Joe Moore, Wally Berger and—of all people—Babe Ruth for pinch-hitting duty. He may be a tottering old man, but it won't be an all-star occasion with-out the burly Babe on hand. There's always the chance he will bust out and the National League won't overlook any bet in trying to obtain revenge for two previous set-backs.

Dizzy Dean and Lefty Gomez are the logical match for starting pitch-ers, this year, although Carl Hub-bell's memorable feat in the 1934 game in fanning five of the mightiest American Leaguers at the outset is still fresh in mind.

Hubbell, Blanton, Lon Warneke and either Van Mungo or Hal Schu-macher likely will be available to assist the elder Dean, although the Nationals might make it unanimous by picking both Deans.

Mel Harder, a star of last year's victory for the Americans, likely will be back with the colors, but Tommy Bridges might get the call over Schoolboy Rowe, who hasn't been going so well. Wes Ferrell is cer-tain to be nominated and elected.

This leaves the National League backstopping assignment as the only important unfinished business. We nominate Jim Delahanty of the Cards and Jimmy Wilson of the Phillies.

CLOSING CLOWNS OPEN SEASON FRIDAY NIGHT

The newly organized Closs's Clowns will open their season at 6:15 Friday at Hensbrough Park, when they will have as their oppo-nents Diers All Stars. Cullum will be in the box with J. Koslowki be-hind the bat for the All Stars.

Manager "Ker" Lukes will pick his line-up from the following play-ers: Leo Komosa, Joe Nicholas, Eddie Baker, p.; Tumaakki, Char-ence Westfall, c.; Leo Fitzgerald, 1b.; Steve Ditzel, 2b.; Leski, 3b.; D. Williams, ss.; Lukas, Leo Koslowki, S. Wilkoiki, Red Bassett, the colored "Babe," and Emil Beck in the outfield.

It is expected that this will be one of Kingston's popular baseball clubs and a good crowd is expected for the opening game Friday night.

WILSON DOGGERS PLAY TROJANS NEXT SUNDAY

The Wilbur Dodgers will play the Kingston Trojans at Wilbur Sunday, game starting at 2:30 sharp. Bat-teries will be: Dodgers—Jim Fur-patrick and Hank Wagon, Trojans—Dave Walsh and Jim McInnis. The Dodgers will practice tonight at 4:15 on the Wilbur Ground and Manager Jerry Diers expects every player to be on hand.

GARDNER MULLAY HOLDS BRASS GIGGLES CROWN

Woodstock, May 22.—Gardner Hol-ley of this village was recent winner of the Greater Mount Athlete Club men's singles crown and was pre-sented with the much coveted G. M. A. C. trophy. He defeated Carroll Turner, defending champion, in straight sets, 6-4, 8-4, 11-0.

'DAFFY' TAKES THE DEFENSIVE

When Al Todd of the Phillies was hit by a pitched ball at St. Louis he dropped his bat and started for the pitcher's box where Paul "Daffy" Dean was at work. Pepper Martin of the Cardinals is shown holding Todd, while Dean (right) assumes a defensive pose. Brother "Dizzy" Dean came to the rescue, a few punches were exchanged, and the game continued, the Phillies winning 7-4. (Associated Press Photo)

STANDINGS

By the Associated Press.

The theory behind a number of recent outstanding deals in "ivory", particularly the brand that performs on the pitching mound, has been to add strength to the clubs con-cerned, but so far very little im-provement has been in evidence.

Two players who figured in im-portant transactions, George Blae-holder and George Earnshaw, made their initial efforts for their new clubs yesterday. They met the same fate that came to others, including Carl Fisher, Russ Van Atta and Phil Collins—a lot of trouble.

Blaeholder managed to scatter eleven Detroit hits in his first start for Philadelphia, but the Athletics didn't get him the runs and he went down 4 to 1.

Earnshaw, in hot water from the start because of his own wildness, finally was driven out by a three-run Cincinnati burst in the fifth and the Dodgers went down 5 to 4 although they hammered St. Johnson and Don Brennan for four counters in the seventh.

Van Atta, sold by the Yanks to the Browns, and Fletcher, sold by Detroit to the White Sox, both were beaten in their first starts with their new clubs while Collins won for the Cardinals although he failed to finish against his old club, the Phillies.

As a result of Earnshaw's defeat yesterday, the Giants increased their National League lead to 2½ games with a 5 to 2 victory over the Pirates and their mound sensation, Cy Blanton. Roy Parmelee got the better of Blanton on the hill, giving only five hits.

The other National League game saw the Phillies drop into a last-place tie with the Braves as they came out on the short end of a 3-0 score against the Cardinals with ancient Jesse Haines doing the elbow-ing. Boston was rained out at Chicago.

The Yankees registered the day's big gain in a series of American League slugging matches. They put together two four-run innings against Joe Vance and trounced the league-leading White Sox 13 to 5 to move into second place.

The victory put them a half game ahead of Cleveland, whose pitchers failed to hold a five-run lead against the Red Sox and took a 12 to 5 trimming.

The Senators kept pace with Detroit's fifth-place club, just a half game behind, by turning back the cellar-dwelling Browns 5 to 2.

(By The Associated Press)

Leroy Parmelee, Giants—Held Pi-rates to five hits.

Jesse Haines, Cardinals—Allowed Phillies eight scattered hits and did not issue a pass.

Johnny Allen, Yankees—Gave White Sox seven hits and struck out eight.

Mickey Cochrane, Tigers—Con-nected with double and two singles to help beat Athletics.

Earl Whitehill, Senators—Let Browns down with eight well-spaced blows.

Bill Campbell, Reds—Drove in two of Cincinnati's five runs in de-feating Dodgers and George Earn-shaw.

Joe Cronin, Red Sox—Pounded out homer and a double to drive in four runs against Indians.

Jane Addams' Stirring Life Has Hull House As Monument

By ROBERT WALTON

Chicago (AP)—Although her fame spread to the far corners of the world, Jane Addams never forgot her first love—Hull House—in Chicago. It was in Illinois that she first saw the light of day and it was nearby—just a few counties removed from her birthplace—that she did perhaps her greatest work for the cause of humanity.

Miss Addams was born in Cedarville, Ill., Sept. 6, 1860, the daughter of John Addams, a friend of Abraham Lincoln. As a child she made frequent trips to the city, but Chicago never heard of her until 1889.

A New Venture

It was in that year that Miss Addams, home from Europe where the presence of so much poverty had led her to dedicate her life to social work, opened Hull House with her friends, Ellen Gates Starr.

Previously she has visited Toynbee Hall in London, the world's first social settlement, but it was a new venture upon which she was embarking in the middle western metropolis.

The Haymarket riots were still fresh in everyone's mind and foreigners were looked upon with suspicion.

In The "Melting Pot"

The neighborhood Miss Addams chose for her venture was in the center of the west side's "melting pot" at Halsted and Polk streets. Charles Hull donated his mansion, spared from the flames of the great fire, for the purpose.

"God's hand must have saved the house for us," said Miss Addams. The program of activities began with children's clubs, free kindergarten and afternoon teas.

Gradually the word spread among the foreign sections that a welcome was waiting at Hull House. The people came timidly at first, but distrust soon gave way to enthusiasm. There were classes in languages, music, art, basket weaving, lace making, sewing, cooking and other subjects.

There was a gymnasium, a day nursery where employed mothers

Jane Addams' work at Hull House, Chicago, became known the world over. It was there that the noted social worker established and carried on a program to help residents of the poorer sections. Leaders in the affairs of the world visited it to pay homage to its founder, who was also an internationally famous campaigner for peace.

could leave their children, a restaurant, a theater—Hull House became the true community center.

Shrine For The Famous

Its influence is just as important today as it was then. Thousands of citizens use its facilities every week, and while it is now housed in much larger quarters, there is still the same friendly greeting extended to the stranger.

In recent years Miss Addams has not lived at Hull House, but she has devoted a definite part of her time to its program. While she was there it became a shrine for famous persons as they passed through Chicago. Former President Theodore Roosevelt was a frequent visitor. He called Miss Addams "Chicago's most useful citizen."

Ramsay MacDonald, prime minister of Great Britain, brought his bride to Hull House on their honeymoon and years later their son visited Miss Addams there.

Worked For City

Among those who worked under Miss Addams at Hull House are Frances Perkins, secretary of labor; Gerald Swope, president of the General Electric Company; Julia Lathrop, first chief of the federal children's bureau; Grace Abbott, who later held the same post and at present is on the University of Chicago faculty; Mackenzie King, former premier of Canada.

Miss Addams didn't limit her activities in Chicago to settlement work. For a time she was an inspector of streets and alleys, a city appointment, and she served on the board of education.

Chicago will remember Jane Addams not only as the founder of Hull House but also as the originator of a system of social service work that has been copied far and wide.

Richard Dowd sang "Mother Macree," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Dowd.

The closing number was transposed to be "The Faith of our Mother."

Will Represent The Great Bull Market

The Kingston Rangers have changed their name.

Bill Longendyke and Charlie Manfro, who organized the Rangers at the start of the season, have dropped that name and will run a team under the name of the "Bull Market" team. The team is being backed by the Great Bull Market. The managers have made a few changes in the line-up and believe that they have one of the strongest teams in this section.

The Bull Markets will probably take the field with the following players: John Celuch, ss (captain); Charles Manfro, c; Joe McDonald, 3b; Bill Longendyke, 3b; Bill Bush, 1b; R. Campbell, rf; Bob Bush, lf; H. Bush, cf; Joe Hart, if; Dick Simpson, m; M. Duff, lf; Dick Longendyke, Red Canine, pitcher. The boys were measured for new uniforms Wednesday night by Lou Kantrowitz, sports outfitter, and expect to put up an appearance second to none when they take the field.

Po'keepsie Man Held For Theft of Silverware From Spencer Estate

The suspicions of Sergeant John Lockhart of the New York State Police landed Thomas Vernie Johnson, 25, of Poughkeepsie, in the Ulster county jail, Wednesday night, to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of burglary third degree.

Surmising that Johnson, who once was employed at the Crum Elbow Estate of Howland Spencer, had knowledge of thefts amounting to $2,000 of silverware and antiques, Sergeant Lockhart and Trooper Lynn Baker, stationed at Highland, went to Beacon and arrested him in a lunch room where he was employed as a short order cook.

Prior to making his home in Beacon, Johnson lived in Poughkeepsie, and before that worked for five years at the Spencer estate at Crum Elbow. He quit his job at Spencer's about two years ago.

The fact that Johnson had worked at the Spencer place and was familiar with the house and surroundings led Sergeant Lockhart to first suspect the lunch room employee.

It was in the middle of last February that the burglary had been committed, but investigation was not started until after the return of Mr. Spencer from Miami, Fla. to his home near Highland, a week ago. Starting to solve the case, Sergeant Lockhart and Trooper Baker questioned several suspects before their attention was directed to Johnson.

They went to Beacon and procured statements from him after grilling him thoroughly.

The Poughkeepsie police were also called on the case when it was learned that he had sold in that city some of the articles alleged to have been stolen. According to the authorities there a girl by the name of Ruby Wallace was involved in the activities carried on by Johnson, but was innocent of the Spencer burglary.

Among the articles supposed to have been stolen by Johnson were a pair of silver candlesticks said to be worth $200, which were sold at a second hand shop in Poughkeepsie for $2. Other articles were silver knives and forks, tea sets, coffee sets and jewelry; also certain sets of buckles and a highly prized pair of Russian boots.

It is thought that most of the items were sold in New York. An investigation will be made there by Sergeant Lockhart.

ADDS NEW CHAPTERS TO NATURAL HISTORY

Expedition Gathers Mammal and Bird Specimens.

New York.—After six solid years of storm and still, sun and sweeter, as leader of the Whitney South Sea expedition which has been collecting birds and other specimens for the American Museum of Natural History in the South Pacific, William F. Coultas, leader of the expedition, has finally returned to New York.

Since 1929, when Mr. Coultas took command of the expedition, sponsored by Harry Payne Whitney, and later by Mrs. Whitney, he has cruised more than 25,000 miles in the South Pacific aboard the "France," a 75-ton auxiliary schooner, and visited some 50 islands and island groups. In the course of these visits, he collected about 10,000 specimens of birds, mammals and reptiles for the American museum plus several thousand insect parasites and fully 75,000 various kinds of shells.

During the past three years, Mr. Coultas was accompanied by his wife who created a sensation among the natives on many islands who had seen few white men and never a white woman.

According to F. Trubee Davison, president of the American museum, the Whitney South Sea expedition during almost a decade and a half of ceaseless research and exploration in the south seas, has added chapters of untold value to man's knowledge of natural history, particularly bird life, in that remote section of the world.

Many New Specimens.
Mr. Coultas contributed about four-score specimens toward these new discoveries—mainly land birds—during the six years he headed the expedition. Chief among these is a type "megapode" from the Ninio Islands.

The queer thing about this strange bird is that it was first discovered and described by Bougainville, one of the early French Pacific explorers, and has not been seen by an ornithologist since. There has never been a series of this bird taken previously—a drab-colored bush fowl as big as a hen, and its chief claim to fame is that it lays a 3½-inch egg.

Another bird collected by Mr. Coultas is the "Djaha," native name of a bird not unlike our barn owl. It is about 18 inches tall and has a peculiar high-pitched cry that sounds somewhat like a traffic officer's whistle.

"My time in the Admiralty Group Islands," said Mr. Coultas, "was a difficult one. The natives were surly, arrogant, treacherous—the most difficult we found in the whole South seas and due to their laziness and cunning they were of no assistance whatever. A case in point is the Island of Manus, where very few whites have ever visited the interior. Here we were practically ordered 'out of the bush.' But we wanted to get a 'Djaha'."

"From generation, natives have revered this owl. They say that when it cries, some one will die. And should anyone kill one of the birds, that is a sure sign of death."

"By sheer luck I had obtained a female along the coast, but I went about 15 miles into the interior in the middle part of the Island of Manus to investigate some chalk caves where I was told I could find more of this particular species. I arrived on a Friday, made a camp and began my hunt in the chalk caves. The old chief of the village accompanied me the first two days. His name was Duval, from the village of Metawari. He was friendly but uneasy. Hunting these owls was defying the gods."

Natives Are Surly.
"One Sunday, for some unknown reason, the old chief became suddenly ill, and on Monday morning, when I set out on another trip to the caves, I found that he was lying unconscious in his house. This was about six o'clock in the morning. I went to a cave alone and obtained a beautiful male. I was highly elated, but my joy vanished when I returned to camp about 9:30. I was horrified to hear the death wail of the women. Who had died? I learned soon enough—it was the old chief. The natives were far more surly than they had been heretofore—almost threatening."

"Our next 18 hours were indeed uncomfortable because the natives gathered around our camp in droves, and one even attempted to assault us. We were vastly relieved when we succeeded in getting a runner down to the sea-coast for some of the coast dwellers to paddle us down the river and take us out."

The Whitney expedition had no unfriendly hits with the natives, but there were times when Coultas had to proceed with tactical diplomacy. This was especially the case in the Admiralty Islands where he found the natives surly and irritable. He laid the blame for their disposition on the climate, poor food and overcrowding.
